

Back to School . . . Leg and All

Contrary to popular opinion, even a "busted" leg can't keep children from school. A star attraction at North Ward registration today was Gary Hemeon, nine, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hemeon, 788 Hillside, who fell and broke his leg when kiddies shook the apple tree he was climbing. Back at school today he tells the gang about his "holiday" as Times photographer, Irving Strickland, snaps his picture.

School Bells Again Toll Knell For Scholar's Summer Holiday

Fourteen thousand boys and girls started back to school in Greater Victoria today and there was scarcely a tear in the crowd.

"It gets boring in the summer—I miss school," said Victor Chan, "I'm going on 12 next Sunday" as he waited in the yard of North Ward School today for registration.

His sentiments were echoed by nearly 350 little colleagues. Holidays can be fun but two months of them, and school looks like the great adventure was the theme.

sixer was all grin when he waited for the school bell to ring. "I'm tired of holidays," he said. Billy Chan, 10, agreed with a "same here."

Even six-year-old Ronnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lamontagne, 2543 Government Street, was happy at the thought of his "first day at school."

So was mother, who has two older children in school, and a younger one at home.

"I'm glad to see the start of school," she said. "Everything else has lost interest for them. When they get restless toward the end of holidays I can't wait for school to open."

Greater Victoria district's 36 public elementary, junior and senior high schools were ready and waiting for registration of the record number of students—1,000 more than last year.

Children registered today and received instructions on the coming term and the equipment needed.

Regular classes start Wednesday at all schools but Mount Douglas High. The 150 students there will have an extra holiday, as renovations will not be complete until Monday, according to J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools.

Stores did a land office business in new shoes for the young fry, trousers for the boys and new skirts and sweaters for the girls.

Thanks to the amount of government assistance on textbooks, however, as well as the book resale policies in effect for all schools, school opening is not the financial nightmare for parents it once was.

"The load is a lot lighter especially when you have a half a dozen children," remarked the father of four. "I know my parents really had a tough time providing us with necessary books for school."

"My daughter is starting college and her total outlay is only $24 and then she can resell them next year."

18 Victims In Chicago Tenement Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Police and fire department officials today sought to determine the cause of a fire that swept through a south side tenement early Monday killing at least 18 persons.

The known victims in the fire that destroyed a four-story brick building were five women, four men and nine children, all Negroes. They were among about 150 persons believed to have been in the tenement when the fire broke out. Among the dead were nine members of one family, including six children.

The blaze was believed to have started in a first floor apartment, in the rear of a tavern. Fire officials estimated damage at $75,000.

Dynamite Greeted School Opening In Douk Area

CPR Tracks Blasted Third Time in Week

The government's insistence on compulsory education for children of British Columbia's Doukhobors was challenged today—the first day of school—when dynamite left a huge section of CPR track and roadbed near Gilpin, B.C., a twisted mass of steel and earth.

Traffic over the CPR Kettle Valley line was halted.

It was the third blasting in the Kootenay Valley area in the last six days and Canadian Press reports from the area say the RCMP expressed fear it was the beginning of a "showdown" with authorities over compulsory school attendance.

The victory scored in Sunday's balloting gave new impetus to the 77-year-old chancellor's long-range plans for reuniting Soviet-occupied, Communist-governed east Germany with the western federal republic, and rearming Germany on the side of the western powers.

Mr. Bonner, asked if the government plans to stand by its already-announced plan for school attendance, replied:

"Nothing has occurred to change our policy."

The attorney-general declined to disclose methods to be used to get Doukhobor children to school.

He does not anticipate sending police reinforcements to the Doukhobor country because this was done several months ago.

He said he has not heard whether the Doukhobor children started school today.

There are about 400 children in the area. Sons of Freedom members, who object to compulsory education, were warned by Attorney-General Bonner last May that fines of $10 a day were possible against parents of truants, with confiscation of drivers' licenses possible for chronic cases.

Rita Gets Million

PARIS (UP)—Lawyers for Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan reached agreement today on a $1,000,000 divorce settlement which ended the couple's storybook romance and left the red-haired movie star free to marry again.

Typhoon Deals Heavy Blow at Maritimes

Naval Officer Drowned; Annapolis Apple Crop Damage Estimated at $1,000,000

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—A tropical hurricane blew itself out over waters east of Labrador today after dealing a sledge-hammer blow to the Maritime provinces and shipping in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

One Nova Scotia fishboat was missing off the south coast. One man had lost his life. Damage to the apple crop in the Annapolis Valley was estimated at $1,000,000.

CREWS RESCUED

Hurricane "Carol," the third and worst of the season along the seaboard, struck Monday night after side-swiping New England and necessitating rescue of 23 men from two stricken vessels.

At Craggy Peggy's Cove, fishermen reported the seas were the worst in memory. Surf was breaking over 100 feet in the air as 80-mile-an-hour winds whipped waters into a white fury.

The 75-foot fishboat Joyce Marie was reported sinking 60

DRUG-CARRIER SUSPECT FREE ON $5,000 BOND

A 33-year-old Victoria man was released on $5,000 bail after being charged in city police court today with possession of a large amount of heroin.

Denis Charles O'Brien, 713 Pembroke, was remanded to Sept. 15 by Magistrate Henry C. Hall. He did not enter a plea, nor elect type of trial desired. His counsel is Arthur Brethour.

Police said his arrest was a culmination of several weeks of investigation in drug trafficking here.

It was reported over 100 capsules of heroin were seized.

Adenauer Wins German Vote

Triumphant Premier to Tighten Party's Grip on West Government

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, backed by the mandate of a smashing election victory, moved today to tighten the grip of his Christian Democratic Party on the West German government.

The victory scored in Sunday's balloting gave new impetus to the 77-year-old chancellor's long-range plans for reuniting Soviet-occupied, Communist-governed east Germany with the western federal republic, and rearming Germany on the side of the western powers.

But his immediate concern was selection of a new cabinet in which his Christian Democrats will hold all key posts.

Chancellery officials said Adenauer plans to have most of his ministers designated before he leaves for a holiday in the Black Forest on September 17. He got the ball rolling today at a meeting with his old cabinet at which the meaning of the election returns was discussed.

It appeared certain that some of the ministries held by his partners in the coalition government which has been in power since 1948 now will go to Christian Democratic party leaders.

EXTEND CONGRATULATIONS
Both United States High Commissioner James B. Conant and French High Commissioner Andre Francois Poncet called on Adenauer separately to extend their congratulations on his election victory.

In winning, Adenauer swept all Communists out of the New Bundestag (lower house of parliament). They had held 15 seats in the outgoing parliament.

Adenauer's coalition won 306 seats and full control of the Bundestag in Sunday's elections. The Social Democratic (Socialist) opposition got 150 seats.

The chancellor's own Christian Democratic party alone took 243 seats, just one short of an absolute majority. It will pick up the other seat at the new Bundestag's first session when one of its members elected on another party ticket in a political manoeuvre will formally announce his switch back to his own party.

Both Communists and the ultra-right German Reich party (DRP), which includes many former Nazis, were reduced to the status of mere fringe splinter groups with no representation in the new Bundestag.

MAN DROWNED

Lt. Cmdr. L. C. Bishop of Halifax was swept into the Atlantic from the deck of the Halifax yacht Vagrant and drowned at the mouth of Halifax harbor Monday afternoon. His wife jumped into the ocean with a life preserver tied about her waist but could not reach him. She later got to shore and was taken to a Halifax hospital suffering from shock.

The Nova Scotia agricultural department said "The worst damage of the century" had been dealt to the rich Nova Scotia apple crop, normally one of the biggest in Canada.

Seven Dead in Province; Nation's Fatalities 62

One violent death marred Victoria and district's Labor Day week-end.

George Whyte, 65, of no known address, was found drowned Sunday evening near the Johnson Street Bridge. Police are endeavoring to get in touch with his relatives.

Although traffic was the heaviest in history, there was not a single major accident. Minor mishaps produced few injuries.

Across Canada, holiday accidents took a death toll of nearly one an hour; and in B.C. seven are known dead, and an eighth fatality is suspected.

BOAT FOUND

Vancouver police said the finding of a 14-foot outboard motor boat off Point Grey, in which were fishing gear, a man's jacket and a pair of glasses with the name of a Saskatchewan optician, gave rise to the suspicion an unknown boatman may have perished.

B.C. LIST

The death list included: Calvin Bill, Masset, who fell from a fish boat in Cow Bay and drowned. His body was recovered Sunday.

Mrs. Paul Hampson, Prince George, who died en route to the hospital following a traffic accident on the Cariboo Highway.

Arthur Lloyd Cardie, 22, Yale, killed Sunday when his late model car crashed into a bridge abutment on the Trans-Canada Highway at American Bar.

Mrs. Clarissa Lochard, 83, Vancouver, traffic.

Joey Arnold, 3, Vancouver, drowned near Golden.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hirschfield, 69, Vancouver, found dead in her home apparently from gas asphyxiation.

ACROSS CANADA

A British United Press survey showed there were 62 violent deaths across Canada during the summer's last long week-end. Traffic accidents took 41 lives. Six persons drowned.

Ontario had the blackest provincial record. Seventeen traffic deaths occurred in the central province along with five drownings, and seven other fatalities from a variety of accidents. Quebec had 11 traffic deaths.

U.S. TOLL

Across the United States, authorities recorded 522 deaths, 349 of them in traffic accidents. Drownings claimed 68, nine died in plane crashes and 96 others in miscellaneous accidents.

Labor Parley Sought

TIMMINS, Ont. (BUP)—Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario has been asked to take the lead in setting up a full-scale conference on labor problem on a national basis as a result of a bitter gold mine strike here.

The request to Frost was made Labor Day in a wire from C. A. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America.

Chief Justice Dead

A heart attack suffered unexpectedly early today in his hotel suite in Chicago took the life of Fred M. Vinson, 63, chief justice of the United States since 1946. Vinson had not been ill. Vinson's death created the first vacancy on the supreme court bench since President Eisenhower took office. There was immediate speculation that Eisenhower will name Governor Earl Warren of California to fill the vacancy.

French Liner Liberte Runs Hard Aground

LE HAVRE, France (UP)—The 51,840-ton French luxury liner, Liberte, carrying 1,075 passengers, including many homeward bound Americans, ran aground in dense fog today as she sailed for New York.

The liner, fourth largest in the world, was under command of a harbor pilot.

All her passengers were booked for passage to the United States.

The luxury liner, formerly the German ship Europa, was dragged clear by tugs in a few hours.

The Liberte ranks in size after the British liners Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary and the United States liner United States.

Jubilant Rocks Enter Mann Cup Finals

For the first time since 1919, a Victoria team is in the Mann Cup finals, fighting for the lacrosse championship of Canada. Shamrocks made it by handing a 12-5 defeat to Vancouver Pilseners Monday night in the final game of the intercity league finals.

GREAT CHEMICAL TRIUMPH

Two Young Canadian Chemists First to Make Synthetic Sugar

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

CHICAGO (AP) — Artificial sugar, a great chemical triumph, was announced Sunday by two young chemists of Canada's national research council.

It is the first time man has made synthetically what nature makes so easily — ordinary sugar or sucrose.

Sugar is a keystone of life. All the energy of the sun which is used by nature starts out as sugar, formed by plants by photosynthesis.

The sugar success was achieved by Dr. Raymond U. Lemieux, 33, a Canadian, and Dr. George Huber, 25, a Swiss, both working for the research council.

Many great chemists have tried to make sugar by chemical synthesis and failed. The success was likened to the climbing of a scientific Mount Everest by Dr. Henry G. Hass, chemist-president of the Sugar Research Foundation.

Only a fraction of an ounce of sugar was made and crystallized. It will not become commercially useful, since sugar from plants is so abundant.

FEED IT TO HUMANS

But it may be possible to put radioactive atoms into this artificial sugar, feed it to humans and solve some secrets of how the human body uses this chemical of life.

The work also will aid in understanding basic chemical properties of glucose, which makes up part of the sucrose molecule, and may help in synthesizing other complicated chemicals.

It took the chemists only three months to succeed in producing artificial sugar. Dr. Lemieux first synthesized malt sugar or maltose, something never done before. This knowledge helped in making a derivative of glucose and a derivative of fructose, or fruit sugar, react to form ordinary sugar.

The Reds threatened him with death. They kept him standing at attention for days on end. They made him squat on his feet until his feet were frozen.

DRIVEN TO SUICIDE

Finally he was driven to a suicide attempt, but they stopped him.

The Reds wouldn't tell Mahurin the armistice had been signed until after he "confessed" Aug. 10. The Reds back-dated his statement to May 10.

As late as Aug. 30, Mahurin said he had to write an undated statement.

Alan Winnington, British-born correspondent for the London Daily Worker, sat in on military tribunals and helped the Reds with the questioning, Mahurin said.

The "confessions" came back later "corrected by someone who knew English pretty well" and the prisoners had to recopy them.

Evans said his case was much the same as that of Mahurin. Lieut. Robert E. Martin, 24, of Jackson, Miss., told how he worked into his "confession" an angle which would prove to American military officials that it was a fraud. He inserted into it that he had been briefed on germ warfare by Maj. Lefty Sellinger, known by the air force to have been killed before Martin even reached Korea.

"I knew if the Chinese ever used that confession by inserting Sellinger's name as my group operations officer," it would be the tip-off to the air force that the confession was a phoney and forced out of me," he said.

Ottawa Cabinet Faces Lengthy Agenda

St. Laurent, Drew Back in Capital

OTTAWA (BUP) — The leaders of Canada's two old-line political parties are scheduled to return to Ottawa from post-election holidays this week, and political activity will take on new life.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was due to be back at his east block desk today in preparation for the second cabinet meeting Wednesday since the Aug. 10 contest.

Opposition Leader George Drew, whose resignation as leader of the Progressive Conservative party has been a matter of speculation following its poor showing in the election, will probably return during the week.

A general meeting of the Progressive Conservative national association, which was postponed last spring because of the imminence of the election, has now been put over until the new year. This has been taken as an indication that Drew will continue as Conservative party leader at least until Christmas.

A long agenda awaits the cabinet for Wednesday's meeting. Issues that were sidestepped prior to the election because of their political impact are growing dusty. These include action on the South Saskatchewan River irrigation power dam, a Canadian Pacific Airlines application for a license to operate an air freight service in competition with Trans Canada Airlines, and an appeal by eight of the 10 provinces against a recent railway freight rate increase.

The cabinet also had to act immediately on a civil service request for a year-round five day work week.

BBC Loses $2 Million In Radio, TV Services

LONDON (AP) — The BBC announced today that it went in the red $759,610 ($2,125,908) last year in providing radio and television services.

The BBC blamed most of the deficit for the year ended March 31 on the government's take from the £1 annual license fee British listeners and viewers pay on each set they own. Prior to last year, the government kept 5 per cent of this income, which is the BBC's chief revenue. Now the government retains 15 per cent.

Russians Said Off Estonian Cabinet

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Estonian refugees said a two-week-old newspaper from their Soviet-ruled land reports the firing of two high-up Russians from the puppet cabinet and their replacement by two Estonians.

They said it was the first time since 1940 that all Communist Party secretaries were Estonians.

GLACIER GIVES UP MAN 50 YEARS DEAD

SALZBURG, Austria (Reuters) — An alpine glacier here has cast out the body of a man killed in a climbing accident and perfectly preserved under tons of ice for 50 years.

Police reported today that they have so far been unable to identify him.

The body emerged from under the Pfendscharten glacier in the Grossglockner district near here last week. With the body was an old-fashioned leather money-bag full of coins, all dated before 1903 and not used in Austria after 1918. There was also an old-fashioned pair of field glasses and yellow and black silk handkerchief of a type in fashion in Austria at the turn of the century.

U.S. Navy Plans Atomic Submarine Big as Cruiser

WASHINGTON (UP) — The navy is considering building a super atomic submarine which would be as big as a light cruiser and as fast as a destroyer, naval officials said today.

The proposal, however, was said to have touched off a heated controversy within navy submarine circles, with one faction claiming the huge undersea craft would be a "sitting duck" target for enemy attack.

As envisioned by navy planners, the submarine would displace 6,000 tons and would be capable of a speed of 35 knots underwater. It would be the largest and fastest submarine ever constructed, twice as large as the two atomic-powered submarines—the Nautilus and Sea Wolf—now under construction. The Nautilus is due to be launched early next year. The keel of the Sea Wolf will be laid next Tuesday at Groton, Conn.

Briton Flies 727.6 MPH to Wrest World Air Speed Record From U.S.

FARNBOROUGH, Eng. (UP) — Squadron Leader Neville Duke flew his Hawker Hunter jet plane through the sound barrier today in a triumphal dive at the big Farnborough air show.

Duke averaged 727.6 miles an hour in level flight Monday to bring the speed honors back to Britain from the United States.

Then this morning he thrilled the crowd at the British air display with a booming faster-than-sound dive in his scarlet jet plane. The speed of sound at sea level is 760 miles an hour.

All Britain acclaimed the 31-year-old test pilot who streaked over the southern coast of England at times only 50 feet above the sea to wrest the coveted record from the United States Sabrejet.

Duke's exploit was neatly timed to dramatize Britain's latest fighters, bombers and civilian aircraft which it hopes to sell to foreign buyers at the annual Farnborough show.

Among the 5,000 guests today at the display of the British aviation industry organized by the Society of British Aircraft Constructors were 100

German aviation technicians, which dropped thousands of tons of bombs on London.

8,000 Throng to Saanichton's Colorful 85th Annual Fair

Exhibits, Competitions Delight City Visitors

Saanichton's fall fair marked its 85th birthday Monday.

Close to 8,000 people, in true holiday spirit, turned out to witness and take part in the event. Most of the patrons were Victorians, who, having no fair of their own, have come to regard the Saanichton festival as theirs, too.

This year's show, from a spectator's point of view, rivalled any three-ring circus.

A circus elephant, in fact, might look tame put next to a snorting one-ton Holstein bull from the Saanichton fair. A carnival bareback rider would have to resort to his very best stunts to take anything away from the enthusiastic equestrians in Monday's jumping events.

A clown might work twice as hard and not bring about the quiet, good humor the crowd got from watching a wide-eyed six-year-old performing the Irish jig in a dancing competition.

And the circus popcorn would seem pretty stale stuff compared with the fresh corn on the cob sold at Saanichton.

BIG ATTRACTION

The horse show event proved the biggest single attraction on Monday's program.

Highland dancing events, staged on a big, outdoor platform, and lasting six hours, drew another enthusiastic audience.

Farmers and city folk crowded eagerly, too, around the two rings where cattle judging took place.

Other attractions, which drew attention from the patrons, were the fruit, vegetable and floral displays, the home craft exhibits, and the animals.

Children had a race meet all their own, and found added entertainment riding in a special children's train or taking a trip around the fair grounds in a tractor-pulled wagon.

ROTARY MIDWAY

Members of the Sidney Rotary Club were in charge of the carnival midway.

Added color was provided by the commercial displays. This year, though, tractors and heavy farm machinery had to vie for attention with television sets. One commercial exhibitor had four TV sets going, giving viewers a chance to see three different programs at once: one from Seattle, one from Tacoma and one from Bellingham.

Mrs. J. C. Erickson took three major trophies for her exhibits in the main hall. She won the Michell-Turgoose Challenge Cup for netting the most points with her entries. She took also the challenge cup awarded the exhibitor scoring most points.

SCORNS SPIKES AND SHORTS

Nonchalant 13-Year-Old Tops All Saanich Rivals

Charlie Johnson, a blond 13-year-old from North Saanich, wore long trousers and running shoes in competition against more serious youngsters who were equipped with shorts and spiked shoes at Saanichton Fall Fair Monday.

But it was Charlie who walked away with the James

Turner Challenge Trophy for obtaining the highest aggregate score in the youngsters' sports meet. He came first in the 75-yard dash, the broad jump and the high jump.

As the boy with the most points he also captured "the Mrs. MacDonald special prize." Complete results of the sports program follow:

Boys, 12 and under, broad jump—1. Gunn Robbins; 2. Lynn Eves; 3. David Eves.
Girls, 12 and under, 75 yards—1. Heather Pope; 2. Sharon McKay; 3. Judy Noonan.
Boys, 12 and under, 75 yards—1. Lynn Eves; 2. Wayne Williams; 3. Glenn Robbins.

Ball Rides Five Jumpers To Prize Ring

Fred Ball, 1717 Midgard, was without serious opposition Monday in stacking up the highest aggregate score of any rider in English saddle events at the Saanichton Fall horse show.

Accepting three mounts in the open jumping event, he took first, second and fourth-place honors. In the following event—the broad jump, he took two horses into the ring, coming first on one and third on the other.

The horse show, staged under auspices of the Garden City Horsemen's Club, drew 60 participants and was the biggest single attraction at the fair.

Results of Monday's events follow:

Children's Jumping—1. Sally Gowing on Home Service; 2. Miss V. Andrews on Poam; 3. Heather Barnes on Red Knight; 4. P. Edeline on Victoria Belle.
Hack Class—1. Terry Castle on Roger; 2. Fred Ball on Beaver; 3. Mrs. C.C. Carpenter on Polly; 4. Miss V. Scott on Home Service.

Youthful Dancers Vie For Fair Blue Riband

Heather McDonald, 14-year-old Vancouver girl, a regular competitor in highland dances at the Saanichton Fall Fair for the last seven years, went home Monday with the Ella Doig Gallagher cup for aggregate honors in open dancing events.

Heather entered her first competition at the Saanichton fair when she was seven. She's not missed a year's attendance since then.

Heather Duncan of Victoria won the trophy for having the highest aggregate score in competitions for dancers under 16.

Ellen McLean, of Port Alberni, took the Thomas Chalmers Challenge Cup for aggregate dancing under 13.

Janet Klunck, Victoria, and Janet Bailey, Port Alberni, both nine-year-olds, shared first prize in the aggregate competition for those under 11.

Jeannie Burns took the Donald Cameron Trophy for piping.

Complete results:
Piping marches—1. Jeannie Burns, Victoria; 2. Jamie Troy, Victoria; 3. Heather Ann McWilliam, Strathgarry and Teils—1. Jeannie Burns; 2. Jamie Troy; 3. Brenda Baker.

Germany Votes for the West

THE GERMAN ELECTIONS have given the western world one of its largest victories since the cold war began. By their own free will the people of Western Germany have rejected not only Communism, but the attractive doctrine of neutrality and have decided that their future lies with the free nations.

The election settles three questions and raises a fourth. First, Russia's attempt to penetrate Western Germany has failed completely. Its candidates have been defeated. Communism has been stopped cold at the Elbe and survives east of there only through the presence of the Red army.

Secondly, the western Germans have rejected, in domestic politics, the socialist policies of the opposition and returned with increased strength, a pretty conservative government, the supporter of free enterprise.

Third, the voters have approved the rearmament of their country inside the European Defence Community, which already has been ratified by their parliament over the opposition of the socialists.

But the fourth and key question remains unanswered: How is Western Germany to be re-armed if the European Defence Community remains a piece of paper, lacking the ratification of any nation but Germany?

The whole policy of the United States in Europe is based on the rearmament of Germany and on an international army to make Germany's strength harmless to its western neighbors. Yet EDC has not come alive and may be permanently dead, chiefly because France has refused, so far, to adopt it.

This situation cannot continue and, now that a German government, the friend of the West, is firmly in office, will not continue long. One way or another western Germany will be re-armed, if not within EDC then outside it.

If France continues to blockade EDC (which it originally proposed) then the United States, one way or another, will arm the Germans, knowing well all the risks involved—the risk of German militarism and the risk of antagonizing France and other European states which fear that danger.

But in the end the future of Western Germany will not be decided by the United States or any foreign power. It will be decided by the Germans. Their election was a significant landmark in that process. It confirmed in office a government which is determined to re-arm, a government which, from now on, will act with virtually full sovereignty.

Since the war the West has been dealing, in Germany, with a conquered and occupied state. It must soon deal with one of the strongest powers, potentially the strongest power in western Europe.

The important thing is that such a power has voted to co-operate with the western world and its people have seen that neutrality in the great struggle is impossible.

Constructive Ship Proposals

USE OF THE PRINCESS Elaine as the day boat between Victoria and Vancouver will provide this city with a winter service guaranteeing mainland train connections without an enforced lay-over by Victoria passengers.

That is a compromise which will meet to some degree Victoria's main objection to removal of fast new ships from the service during the winter months. The arrangement, however, does not offer a permanent solution to a problem the city raised with the Canadian Pacific Railway B.C. Coast Service last year.

The company has pointed out to Chamber of Commerce and civic interests here that continued use of the fast, more luxurious ships is not justified by the volume of winter traffic. Losses of a considerable nature were occurring on virtually every winter trip.

But if the present schedule provides train connections, it does not solve the whole problem with its inter-related Gulf Islands difficulties. Removal of the Elaine from the latter runs leaves the Gulf Islanders with a service with which they are thoroughly dissatisfied—and with some reason.

Proposals have been advanced by the Chamber of Commerce for study by the CPR. They seem logical and should support local officers of the B.C. Coast Service in their representations to head offices of the company.

Basically, the difficulty seems to revolve around the lack of suitable ships for the winter and Gulf Island services.

When the peak summer loads are over, the CPR is left with vessels whose operating costs are out of all proportions to the earnings they make. The company appears to have inadequate replacements which could break even or run at a profit when the number of passengers falls.

This, the Chamber of Commerce committee suggests, is an issue which might be overcome if more economically operated boats were acquired by the company for the slack season. Use of such vessels would mean a sacrifice in the comfort and luxury of travelers from the standards maintained by the summer season day boats. That is one of the developments to which passengers would have to accustom themselves.

As far as the Gulf Islands service is concerned, members of the chamber group have presented three suggestions worthy of thought.

They advance the view that a suitable service might be established by use of a boat similar to the Princess of Alberni, with daily sailings among the Gulf Islands and daily connection with Vancouver Island.

Alternatively they propose use of three different ships now in service which might take up their lay-over time from other runs by servicing the Gulf Islands.

The third suggestion would mark a complete change in previous service and would be patterned on the system used among certain United States islands. It would employ small craft, capable of carrying one car or more, on short ferry runs over the narrow and protected passes between the islands in much the same way that ferries operate to cross rivers on the mainland. For the longer hauls larger vessels would be used.

The Chamber of Commerce is not, of course, telling the CPR how to run its business. It is, however, doing its duty in reminding the company of a responsibility resting on it to care for the needs of Victoria and Gulf Islands people.

Proper Action on Whatshan

PREMIER BENNETT HAS chosen wisely in appointing Mr. Justice J. V. Cline as Royal Commissioner to inquire into the Whatshan disaster and Mr. Justice Cline has shown sound judgment in announcing that the inquiry will be open to the public.

The circumstances surrounding the slide which knocked out the B.C. Power Commission's plant on Lower Arrow Lake and the shaken public confidence arising from the incident demand a searching investigation by an independent figure.

Earlier arrangements for an examination by the engineering interests formerly employed on the Whatshan project would have been quite inadequate. At best they could not have escaped the position of being interested parties.

Mr. Justice Cline will assume the task with no prior association with Whatshan, with sound training in sifting evidence and with an excellent reputation for high judicial fairness. When his task is completed, the public can expect an unbiased and convincing report over the cause of the mishap and the responsibility or otherwise of any individual or group for failing to avoid it.

Salute to Canadian Art

THE PRINTING IN TIME Magazine recently of two pages of Canadian art, in full color, is heartening international recognition of this country's rapid development in this field. As Time so aptly asks:

"Where will Canadian painting go from here? The answer seems to be: anywhere and everywhere. Her painters are individualists with more temerity than training. In a time of fast-growing wealth and expanding horizons, Canadian art should be full of surprises."

No longer may Canada be regarded as "a cultural desert." Not only in painting, but in radio, in music, in sculpture, in architecture and in such theatrical ventures as the recent, amazingly successful Stratford Shakespearean Festival she is showing a yeasty progress which parallels the astonishing industrial development of the past few years. The popularity of the local Arts Centre is dramatic local evidence of Victoria's contribution to this national cultural growth.

Memo to Donald Gordon

MR. DONALD GORDON, PRESIDENT of the Canadian National Railways, who has been in these parts lately, is a man of wide-ranging talents, from central banking to the concertina. But when he undertakes to discuss train whistles he is getting out of his depth. In his recent Vancouver speech, as reported in this news, paper, he treated this serious subject with a levity which, as an aged whistle-listener, I deeply resent.

It must be realized, of course, that Mr. Gordon is grappling here with a problem far more complex than the finances of his railway. He is grappling with the new horror of the Diesel engine.

Now, I am prepared to admit, since the experts say so, that the Diesel engine is a fine thing, reckoned in terms of power and economics. It pulls a heavier load faster than a steam locomotive. It saves time, labor and money. But it can't whistle.

OH, yes, it can make noises, it can try to imitate the real thing, but it has never yet succeeded in reproducing the note of loneliness, distance and anguish which is the authentic life-sound of the Canadian people.

Mr. Gordon seems to realize this in a dim sort of way. He pokes fun at his own experts who, trying to devise a Diesel whistle like a genuine whistle of steam, have laid down the following rule: "The device should be capable of propagating sound waves covering the overall frequencies between 200 and 650 cycles per second. No two devices of a group should emit frequencies closer than 20 per cent of each other and at least one of the devices comprising the group should cover the frequencies between 400 and 650 cycles per second. The combined sound level should not be less than 105 decibels on the periphery of a circle 100 feet in radius."

THAT may mean something to sound experts. Obviously it means nothing to Mr. Gordon and less to the whistle-listener who lies abed at night, waiting for the old magic sound in the hills.

It can never mean anything, I am convinced, because the scientists of sound are here invading a realm where science itself means nothing. They are prying into the insoluble mystery of life. Mr. Gordon should be the first to understand that, since he has examined several life-times of experience into half a century. Then why doesn't he frankly admit the fact that his Diesel engines have no life, are mere contraptions of iron and oil and thus can never hope to have a voice?

THAT, of course, and not some measurement of mere power, some dismal calculation in economics, is the essential difference between a Diesel and a steam locomotive. The steam locomotive has life. It is, indeed, the only living thing that man has yet managed to produce, his nearest approach to the universal mystery.

To anyone who has watched locomotives laboring on the plains and in the mountains, anyone who has heard their wail across the midnight dark, anyone who has sensed their hunger for communion with human kind, it is quite unnecessary to prove that they have a life of their own, that they have evolved out of steel and steam, crossed the invisible line in the scheme of things, ceased to be machines and become creatures.

To anyone who has not seen this marvel it will be useless to attempt explanations or, like Mr. Gordon's experts, to measure life in decibels on the periphery of the life circle.

I MERELY state the fact. I cannot give understanding to a lost and Dieselized generation.

In time, perhaps, the Diesel may achieve life and then, like other living things, will find a voice to replace the present imitation. But I doubt it. In the meantime the question is whether Mr. Gordon and the other railway executives are going to still the only genuine voice, the voice of steam and of history.

If they must embrace the cold and lifeless form of the Diesel, if they must put economics before sentiment, let them at least preserve a vestige of the old miracle which made this country in the first place, an echo of the sound which comforted our grandfathers on the long western trail, before decibels were invented, when the brass locomotive bell joined the whistle in the original Canadian symphony.

LET them, despite economics, keep a few steam locomotives wandering aimlessly through the country, hauling a freight more precious than the Board of Transport Commissioners has ever known. Pension them off, if necessary, put them on an old-age pension, turn them out to grass and a little coal, like steeds who have earned their retirement, and let them shout their greeting to us across the land which they conquered. In these times of confusion we need that message of confidence more than ever. Are you listening, Mr. Gordon, with your concertina and your decibels?

The Oil Company View

In the last few weeks there have been several letters in the press and news items in which individuals and organizations have exercised their democratic right to express criticism of the occasional increase in the price of gasoline.

In reality gasoline is one of the biggest bargains for the consumer dollar today. Included in the 40.8 cents Vancouver retail price of regular gasoline is a 10 cents road tax which is collected by the provincial government. There is also a Dominion Sales tax of 8 cents, or close to 2 cents per gallon. Also the retailer's margin is now 6.8 cents per gallon. Incidentally, this has increased from 4 cents in 1939 to 6.8 cents because dealers have been caught in the spiral of increases in wages, material and equipment costs, as has every other business. Actually, therefore, the oil company realizes only 22 cents per gallon.

PRICE COMPARISON

Our company does not set a retail price for gasoline, however, as indicated above, the Vancouver wholesale price is but 24 cents per gallon inclusive of the 8 per cent Dominion sales tax, which amounts to approximately 2 cents per gallon. The current price at this date represents an increase of 60 per cent since 1939, which is a relatively modest increase when compared with the steep increase in wage rates and the increases shown in almost all wholesale prices as represented in the wholesale commodity index of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

In 1939 the average weekly wage in B.C. was $26.01 and in May of this year it was $63.72, or an increase of 141 per cent. The Dominion wholesale price index in 1939 averaged 99.2 and in May of this year it stood at 220.1, or an increase of 122 per cent. In other words, gasoline prices show less than half the rate of increase shown by the wholesale price index and less than half the rate of increase in wage rates. The operations of oil companies are directly affected by increased wage and commodity costs.

The price of gasoline is based on the cost of crude oil and the cost of transportation of such crude oil to a refinery and then the cost of refining. Crude oil prices are directly affected by complex world conditions of supply and demand. B.C. has secured most of its crude petroleum from California and since 1939 the price has increased from $1.02 per barrel to $3.29, or an increase of 222 per cent.

This increase reflects world conditions, the cost of the immense amounts of capital required in the petroleum industry, and the essential continuing program of exploration for further reserves. The sharp and steady increase in the capital cost of drilling equipment and the increase in the wage scale for skilled drillers have also been key factors in increased discovery and production costs.

The current issue of World Petroleum, which is one of the leading international publications in the petroleum industry, refers to the cost of deeper drilling to find new reserves. A well drilled to 13,000 feet costs six times as much to drill as a well drilled to 5,000 feet. The article states that the ratio of failures in drilling proven fields has risen to 40 per cent, or increased by 25 per cent in five years. Failures in exploratory drilling now average 80 per cent.

Then there is the question of increases in refining costs. Modern automobiles require constant improvement in the quality of gasoline. These fuels are developed after costly research and the development of new technological processes. Refineries for such processes require heavy outlays of capital and such plants are soon obsolete. These are some of the factors that have contributed to the increase in gasoline prices.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT

I have spent my entire business career in the petroleum industry and uniformly I have found that the objective of every responsible oil company is to supply the consumer with the finest of petroleum products at the lowest possible cost. Currently the industry is investing some $40,000,000 in new refinery facilities in B.C. $90,000,000 is being invested in pipeline facilities not only to cut crude oil transit costs to B.C., but also to assure us of a dependable supply. This type of capital is international and if it is to continue to flow to B.C., there must be assurance of fair earning power for those who have made the money available.

As manager of a British Columbia company, I feel certain that the petroleum industry will continue to make available to B.C. motorists the finest quality petroleum products at the lowest possible price. Gasoline at today's price is a top bargain for the consumer dollar of B.C. motorists.

GEORGE C. BRADLEY,
General Manager, Home Oil Distributors Limited.

As Our Readers See It

INOCULATIONS AND POLIO

It seems a pity that more warnings are not given regarding the relationship between polio and immunization against diphtheria and whooping cough.

Accepted scientific findings point to the fact that inoculation can predispose to subsequent polio, moreover, recent inoculation appears to increase the severity of the attack if it comes.

These facts were established some years ago practically simultaneously by different doctors who had been carrying on polio investigations in England and Australia. Their reports were taken so seriously that the ministry of health in England sent warnings to all medical officers of health in that country.

It is interesting to note that infantile paralysis was practically unheard of until this century when the intensive campaigns of immunization of children were started.

J. J. CORRIN.

POLITICS AND CITY HALL

Politics has entered within the portals of our City Hall.

Take the case of Percy Wright, MPP. In our democratic way we appointed this valiant person to carry our banner in the provincial legislature.

No doubt he will think this a noble and self-sacrificing act; may this thought enable him to bear with fortitude the burden that destiny has cast upon him.

He is now our philosopher and friend. It is however, very clear to the majority of us, that he should have left the many comforts and security provided him at the City Hall before he entered into the political arena, no matter whether his party was a political machine or an organized hypocrisy.

Keep politics out of our civic service—keep it clean.

A. H. BISHOP.

WHAT VALUE GOLD?

While men are staging a strike with violence at the Noranda Mine in Ontario it seems to be opportune to ask your paper to explain to its readers what useful purpose, economic, currency or in national morale is served by the mining of gold. Long ago in Canada gold ceased to have any connection with currency.

If I were to present a Bank of Canada note in any chartered bank branch in Canada and ask for its value in gold the clerks would not know what I was talking about.

The output of gold in Canada for generations has been greater than the demand for the needs of science and the frivolous demand for women's jewelry. Besides, if we should run out of gold for these purposes, no doubt we could buy enough from Fort Knox, U.S., where there is more gold stored than ever was in one place in the history of this planet since it cooled off from its gaseous days, or indeed in the universe at any point in time or eternity.

If the workers in an industry of which the end is, or should be, in sight cannot carry on their operations without attempting murder, why should an ostensibly intelligent nation permit it to be continued?

W. G. HENSHALL.

ANOTHER PROTEST

The recent statement from CPS regarding their future schedule for the Gulf Islands and North Saanich will bring much discussion and thought from many on these islands and adjacent areas.

That this is a retrograde step there can only be drawn these conclusions, firstly, the route as served by the Elaine does not pay, and secondly, the efforts of the Gulf Islands Ferry Company toward a ferry linking Vesuvius-Crofton and toward trade routes with Nanaimo, are taken by CPS to eliminate the necessity for further service to Salt Spring Island.

Now if the Gulf Islands Ferry Company have a solution toward the treatment of this abandoned route (e.g.) from North Saanich, Gulf Islands, Vancouver connection, then it is their duty to so inform the public residents who are affected by the said route.

In all fairness to anyone living here on Salt Spring Island, or worse still, the other islands, a connection only via Nanaimo to Vancouver is purely foolish.

What is definitely needed and with all expediency is a fast and commodious service from Swartz Bay, V.I., to Stevenson on the Mainland, calling at the following ports: Beaver Point, Salt Spring Island, Port Washington, Pender Island, Galiano Island, and Mayne Island. Saturna would presumably be serviced by a feeder boat to Hope Bay, Pender Island, South Pender, having gotten the bridge (a desperate necessity) across the canal, would use Port Washington.

The above route has been under much discussion for many years. If the Sidney Chamber of Commerce and the Salt Spring Chamber of Commerce and the Gulf Islands Improvement Bureau had pooled their efforts to this end, I believe an adequate service to all these points would now be in service.

Sidney has never been an adequate all-year port, and it never will be, even though $500,000 a year be spent on breakwaters, etc. Therefore let that money be spent to a more useful purpose and obtain for North Saanich and even southern Vancouver Island an all-year port with quick and efficient service to Vancouver. The same applies to the Gulf Islands Ferry Company. Instead of trying to get two small ferries subsidized, let them work for a fast and equitable service for all these points to Vancouver and Vancouver Island.

The Gulf Islands are now, with the exception of Salt Spring, worse off in regards transportation than they were 50 years ago.

Land values will fall and local economy will, and has, deteriorated by this neglect.

D. D. FRASER.

RR 2, Fulford Harbor.

Toronto—New Form

Ottawa Journal

A brochure issued by the Municipality of Metropolitan Toronto (to give Greater Toronto its new and official name) explains the local government designed for that considerable part of the province.

There is a Metropolitan Council of 25 members, headed by a chairman. The city of Toronto sends 12 of its city council—the mayor, two controllers and nine aldermen—to sit on this metropolitan body, and these 12 are balanced by four mayors and eight reeves (two of the latter are women) who represent the dozen other communities that go to make up the metropolitan area. The present chairman was appointed by the Ontario government, but that was a temporary measure to get the system started. Later a chairman will be named by the other 24 members, or elected at large.

Each of the 13 municipalities represented on the Metropolitan Council retains its separate existence and its authority over strictly local affairs. But the Metropolitan Council has control of such matters as these: Assessment, water supply, sewage, roads, transport, education, health and welfare, administration of justice, housing, planning, parks, finances. The Metropolitan Corporation, it is explained, "will establish an annual budget for its estimated expenditures and collect that amount from the 13 constituent municipalities by a metropolitan tax rate applicable to the aggregate assessment of each local municipality." That is exactly the way a county council maintains itself.

The Metropolitan Corporation gets generous aid from the province—a grant of $4 per head of the population, which means about $5,000,000 a year. Thus every boy and girl born in any one of the 13 municipalities may or may not be a little Liberal or a little Conservative but at least is an asset worth $4 a year to the august Metropolitan Corporation.

MARKED for READING

MODEST BRITAIN

The British are not on the whole a boastful people. They are more likely, I think, to criticize the various aspects of their national life than to praise them. Parliament is constantly under fire for its slowness and long-windedness. The press is regularly criticized for its bias. British food is admitted to be as bad as any eaten in the world. It is a regular complaint that our hotels are uncomfortable and inefficient. No one defends the coldness of our houses or the lumpiness of our beds. When a Briton hears a foreigner say that something in Britain is good, the Briton is normally politely sceptical.

—Michael Davis.

Battle of the 'Buttonhole'

Ever there should be a system of awards established for those who most assiduously safeguard tradition and assiduously change, the majority would surely go to the readers of the London Times. Scarcely a week passes but what someone raises a matter of world-shaking importance, such as the disappearance of the old-fashioned muffin, and every patriot ordinarily snoozing in the reading room of the Piccadilly Club awakens to the challenge with the enthusiasm of an old war-horse and takes up his pen to do battle.

Nancy And how they battle! They rally their cohorts from all over the country and fire broadsides of almost vitriolic intensity at the culprit who dares to cast any reflection on old-established custom by suggesting something new to take its place. Columns and columns of Col. Blimpish letters simply snort with indignation to such good effect that one can almost hear the writers' blood pressure mounting alarmingly.

Not since the distinguished jurist walked to the corruption of the British crumple into "limp, lardaceous, pock-marked parodies" has there been such a verbal to-do as has been created over the disappearing "buttonhole." And by buttonhole, I don't mean the hole through which you push a button but the flower which adorns the lapel on festive occasions and which, on this side of the Atlantic, is usually known by its French name, "boutonniere."

That Disney Label

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One element characterizes all movies bearing the Walt Disney label. That is enthusiasm.

It is not hard to account for. It comes from the head man himself. I have known Disney for a long time and I never fail to marvel over his enthusiasm, as well as his honesty.

He is concerned with many films, but the most interesting project is his true live-action series. These, starting with "Seal Island" four years ago, have been unusually successful, although they followed no movie pattern. The first four won Academy awards. These pictures tell the life cycles of ants and whales, apples and otters, penguins and parsnips.

A series on people is new. It will detail the modes and manners of folks in little known parts of the world, telling the struggles for existence and the urge for self-perpetuation.

Disney maintains a lively interest in every report from every camera crew. His men now are searching for a migration of whales in several oceans. One naturalist in Illinois has 25 cameras pointed at assorted vegetables and fruits. A professor and his wife are in the Falkland Islands, down in Patagonia, to record the life of the penguin.

In all, Walt says he has 31 camera crews scattered about the world. Some write him frequently, some rarely. In the first seven months of this year they sent him 625,000 feet of film—enough for 100 long features.

"You never know where you're going to get material," Disney says. "It comes from lectures, hobbyists, amateurs. We look at every bit of it and we're glad to have it."

"We're told each picture gets better," said Disney. "Of course, we think so, too. But how are you going to top the last one? ... We've been trying to top 'Snow White' for 15 years—and we can't do it. What could the Seven Dwarfs do again? Nothing. Just nothing."

"You remember 'The Three Little Pigs' Best short we ever made. And we got talked into making some more little pig pictures, to my everlasting embarrassment. No one ever heard of them. A successful picture is great, and we like to make them. But they're a pain in the neck when you follow them, as you must."

Britain Will Not Explode 'Frightful' Cobalt Bomb

CANBERRA (Reuters)—Britain will not explode the "frightful" cobalt bomb in her atomic test in Australia next month, reliable sources here said Monday.

The cobalt bomb—an ordinary atomic bomb ringed with cobalt—would saturate the explosion area with radio-activity for at least six months, completely barring any human penetration, scientists say.

The sources here said the atomic weapon Britain will explode on Woomera rocket range will have several "unusual features," but on the whole will be a "conventional" bomb.

Australian newspapers raised a cry of alarm last week after a London correspondent's report that Britain intended to explode the cobalt bomb and make a wasteland out of much of the country for months, and perhaps years.

Last week Australian physicist Marcus Oliphant said that a madman would use a cobalt bomb. It is a two-edged weapon which would cause as much damage to the attacker as to the attacked.

A cobalt atomic explosion sprays the deadly radioactive particles over a wide area. Oliphant said such an explosion would contaminate the bombed area for perhaps years.

Critical Articles On 27th Brigade Members Defended

PORTES DE L'ENFER, Que. (CP)—The Canadian War Correspondents Association Monday labelled as a "serious threat to the public interest" attempts by senior military officers to discourage or prevent publication of information about Canadian military activities.

The association spoke out in support of three of its members whose criticisms of the morale and personnel standard of the 27th Canadian Brigade in Germany were attacked by military authorities.

Also before it was a report on severe new restrictions imposed by the Canadian Army on correspondents with the 25th Brigade in Korea.

Three association members—Bill Boss of the Canadian Press—Ross Munro of the Vancouver Province and Lionel Shapiro of Maclean's Magazine—wrote critical articles after visits to the 27th Brigade in Germany.

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery in a Toronto interview attacked the idea that any published criticism of the Canadian forces under his NATO command should have been made by Canadians. He called it "fouling one's own nest."

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, chief of the Imperial general staff, denied the accuracy of a story by Mr. Shapiro.

Robinson Holsteins, Aylard Jersey Herd Show's Best

Henry G. Robinson, secretary-manager of the Vancouver Island Dairyman's Association, won five major prizes in the Holstein division of the cattle show at Saanichton fall fair Monday.

Two of his three-year-old cows accounted for four of the top prizes.

Robinson La Vata Ormsby Marie was selected as grand champion and senior champion. Robinson La Vata Ormsby Maybelle was picked reserve grand champion and reserve senior champion.

Robinson Hengerveld Skipper, a bull yearling, was awarded the ribbon as reserve junior champion in the Holstein division.

J. S. Judge's Perfection Big Boy was named junior champion. Mr. Judge's Paulholm Netherland, a three-year-old, was picked as reserve grand champion.

Grand champion bull among Holsteins was Rollinlea Ebony Wayne, a three-year-old, owned by Ralph Rendle & Son.

In the Jersey section, A. W. Aylard, a consistent winner, again took the Royal Bank of Canada Cup for collecting most points in the show.

Mr. Aylard's four-year-old milking cow Brackenhurst Standard Lina was picked as grand champion cow and senior champion among the Jerseys exhibited.

His Brackenhurst Pilot's Betty was picked reserve grand champion and reserve senior champion.

W. C. Woodward's Woodwynn Furys Jay was picked as junior champion cow and V. S. Polson's Haydrem Princess Rose was named reserve junior champion.

Woodward's two-year-old bull Quilchena Forward was judged grand champion bull of the Jersey class with Aylard's Pine-tree Sporting Pilot picked as reserve grand champion.

Miss Grace Moses' Hazelmere Lindy's Gayboy was selected as the Jersey junior champion bull.

H. Standen's Eastwood Rondin's Freshie was named reserve junior champion Jersey bull.

Shamrocks Gain Canadian Boxla Final

IT'S MY VIEW

By BILL WALKER, Sports Editor

The green has a brilliant lustre now; the fighting Irish are in the Mann Cup finals.

A bunch of scrappy kids called the Shamrocks last night moved Victoria to the pinnacle that was a far-away dream just four short years ago.

They whipped Vancouver Pilseners into submission with a 12-5 victory and they did it with ridiculous ease.

There isn't anything that can be said about averages now. The Rocks flouted the book of percentages in winning their 22nd straight victory at home, and they'll carry that amazing mark into the Canadian final against the vaunted Trailermen from the little hamlet of Peterborough.

Defending champs, and twice winners of the coveted honor, the Trailermen will be here next Monday. And the original cinderella kids who had had to plead their cause on bended knee to get into the league in the first place, will be waiting.

It was just over four years ago that out of the dust that was lacrosse at Stevenson Park a green-clad crew with nothing but brassiness stepped into the Intercity League and said: "Okay, we know we haven't got much; but what we have got is fight, and you'll be hearing from us."

They bucked their way into the playoffs that year, the crew they nicknamed in Vancouver "as green as their sweaters."

And green, but oh so willing they were. True, they didn't get far—just to the finals. And what a semifinal victory they scored over Indians that year.

Nostalgic memories return of that tremendous fifth game:

The tragic figure of Norm Coates losing the ball in front of the net with victory in sight and Alfie Phillips of the tribe scooping it up and whizzing it by big Bill Andrews for the tying goal, forcing overtime.

Darrell Popham knocking the ball out of Denny Huddleston's stick at centre floor, then picking up the crazily bouncing sphere and outracing the entire Indian team to score the winning goal.

A spectator then, John Cavallin of the present Pils said it was the greatest game he had ever seen.

Then came that second year. The Irish bombed their way to the league championship only to falter in the face of injuries when the finals beckoned. Last year the same thing happened. The Irish were bounced early by the Indians.

There was no turning back.

And, this year, the "make or break" season. And the Irish didn't once waver.

They threw off a succession of injuries that would cause lesser men to curl up and wither away into oblivion.

They won the league championship for the third straight year. They took all, and it was plenty, that Nanaimo had to offer, and they hit their peak as Pils arrived on the scene.

Only one game they lost against the powerful mainland squad, a 10-9 decision. Last night's game was anti-climatic. The Pils didn't belong.

And now into the teeth of the champion Peterborough club they'll throw their spirit and an ability that has been minimized by most.

Archie Browning the guy who used to put tin cans on a fence and knock 'em off like a trapshooter pickin' off clips will head the parade. The blonde bomber with the torpedo drive was tremendous in this series. He scored 18 goals after being out for most of the season with a broken hand.

He wisecracked before the series: "I didn't do much against Nanaimo, so I guess Pils won't pay much attention to me."

How wrong he was. But too, how brilliant.

A Four-Letter Word Meaning 'Heart'

What did he say in one of his greatest moments last night as he was named co-winner of the Max MacDonald Trophy, awarded the most valuable player in the playoffs?

"Yeah, I guess I had a good series, but did you ever see Whitey (Severson) any better in threading those passes into my stick?"

That's why the panel named Severson as co-winner of the award. They couldn't have done it any other way. His nose battered and broken and spread across his face like a cheese omelette—there was only one word to describe it—GUTS.

It would take a book to distribute honor where due, but there's one star in the heavens they haven't studied as yet.

He sat in the corner of the dressing room sucking on a bottle of pop, his bulky frame oozing perspiration like an over-ripe melon.

"You'll pardon me, if I don't get up," he said.

And who wouldn't? For the fellow with the halo was Jim Hetherington, the forgotten man who refused to quit. He typified the Irish spirit.

TYEES LOSE PAIR

WIL Pennant Race Goes to Final Game

Spokane and Lewiston carried their stride-for-stride race for the Western International Baseball League's second-half pennant down to the wire Monday with sweeps of Labor Day doubleheaders.

And whether the Indians or the Bronces meet Salem in the post-season playoff won't be known until after tonight's season-ending encounters.

Spokane clipped Tri-City 15-1 and 11-6 in the Labor Day twin bill at Kennewick, while Lewiston thumped Victoria 6-1 and 7-6 at Lewiston.

CELLAR FINISH

The hapless Tyees appear to be relegated to a cellar finish after their double loss Monday.

Lewiston had little trouble taking the seven-inning opener of the twin bill but were extended to 11 innings before copping the afterpiece.

Tyees scored their only run of the first game in the first inning but were blanked by Russ (No-hit) Butler after that. Losing pitcher was Bob Drilling.

In the nightcap, Bill Prior took over from Earl Bollina in the ninth and was the losing pitcher when Lewiston scored one run in the bottom of the 11th.

On Saturday in their final home games of the season, the Tyees lost a pair to Vancouver Capitanos, 9-1 and 2-0.

No announcement was forthcoming from club officials concerning the future of the club as the attendance appeal fell far short of its goal. Only 2,600 fans turned up for the club's final four home games in

A Big Moment for a Big Star

There could have been no more fitting way for the Victoria Shamrocks to end Monday's lacrosse game than to chair Jim Hetherington and carry him off the floor. For during the Shamrocks' run to the Intercity Lacrosse League playoff championship, it was the hefty goalkeeper, often overlooked by the fans, who carried the major part of the

Viduals Capture B.C. Title

Victoria Individuals are the British Columbia senior B women's softball champions.

Individuals defeated Vancouver Kerriettes, 4-2, Sunday, in the final game of a double-elimination tournament at Chilliwack to capture the provincial title.

Ruth Oster, who hurled three tourney games in as many days for the champions, was again in fine form as she allowed only two hits, both coming in Vancouver's two-run first inning, while walking two.

Individuals picked up one run in the bottom of the second to close the gap and then came up with two runs in the second. Mrs. Oster driving in both. Viduals added insurance marker in the fifth.

Mrs. Oster sprained her ankle in the second inning but came back with a gritty display and held Vancouver hitless over the last six innings in the seven-inning contest.

Rosalind Drychuk came up with the fielding gem of the day when she speared Dot Asunika's long fly ball and doubled Bev Shelton off second.

Sunday, Individuals clubbed Gordon's Super Valu Aces from Kelowna, 7-2, behind the four-hit hurling of Mrs. Oster, after posting a 6-2 decision over Kerriettes Saturday.

Line scores follow:
Kelowna 6-10 100 6-2 5
Victoria 200 200 3-7 1
Olive Pope and Martha Brockman; Ruth Oster and Jan Zaruk.
Vancouver 200 600 6-2 2
Victoria 120 610 3-4 4
Barb Matthews and Dot Asunika; Ruth Oster and Jan Zaruk.

EDMONTON (CP) — Frank Willey, Edmonton Riverside pro, won the Alberta open golf championship Monday with a 205 for 54 holes of medal play, eight under par.

VANCOUVER BEATEN

City Cricket Side Triumphs

By TONY BRISTOWE

In a thrilling finish to Monday's intercity cricket match at Beacon Hill Park, Victoria beat Vancouver in the last over of play by two wickets. This was a well-deserved victory, for which chief credit must go to Bob Mainwaring and Ted Parkins, who made the win possible by excellent batting.

Vancouver won the toss and chose to bat on a soft, easy-paced wicket. Brierley and Quintrell opened the inning to the bowling of Ellis and Richards. The first wicket came at 13, when Brierley was caught at extra cover by Seale off Richards. Quintrell and Yeomans then pushed the score steadily along to 52, when Quintrell unaccountably cocked up an easy catch to Mainwaring at short leg.

From then on it was a matter of wickets falling steadily at one end while Yeomans batted comfortably at the other. When he was caught at deep mid-off trying to force the pace, the score stood at 133. The remaining wickets fell quickly for 17 runs, and Victoria found themselves faced by the moderate score of 160, and plenty of time in which to get the runs.

Gladden and Parkins opened quietly to some accurate fast bowling by Stead and Jesson, but it was not long before Parkins opened out. He played some glorious strokes—notably a square cut for four off Stead and a full-blooded hook for six over the square leg boundary. The score had reached 29 when Gladden was caught and bowled by Jesson, and Mainwaring joined, Parkins.

Helped by some untidy bowling, these two pushed the score along merrily until Parkins was well caught at cover point by Clark off Sheppard for 45 in valuable runs. The total then stood at 93, and victory was a real hope.

Day came in and was soon looking for runs, and when he was bowled by Nugent for 10, Mainwaring called for a change in the batting order, and was joined by Seale. Those two went after the runs, and as the excitement mounted, Mainwaring was caught at mid-off for 66 runs. This was a real captain's innings, marred only by a stumping chance, in which the wicket-keeper failed to gather the ball.

In league play over the weekend Albions beat Oak Bay by 88 runs. Albions 160 for 4 declared (Mainwaring 62, Gladden 50, W. Wilkinson 21); Oak Bay 72 (Colquhoun 55 not out, Hendra 5 for 36, Oakman 4 for 19).

Cowichan beat Incogs by 49 runs. Cowichan 131 for 6 declared (Lonsdale 53; Heppenstall 20, Dyson 19 not out, Goddard 4 for 29; Incogs 83 (Melly 47, Heppenstall 6 for 25).

Alcos beat Five C's by 50 runs. Alcos 88 (Twamley 24, Pugh 7 for 32); Five C's 38 (Boyes 16, Day 5 for 13).

As a result of this week-end's games, Albions are established as winners of the 1953 championship.

Next Sunday a combined Oak Bay and Alcos XI will meet the UBC team from Vancouver in an all-day game at Windsor Park.

Injured Shamrocks To Return

The western champion Victoria Shamrocks will be greatly bolstered for the Mann Cup finals against Peterborough Trailermen.

Although they may not see action in the series opener Monday night, both Larry Booth and Len Scott will be available for the series, although it had been feared both were through for the series.

Scott, injured midway through the season with a broken hand, reports the hand completely healed and has been running daily to get back into shape for the Dominion finals.

Booth's injured back was far less serious than first feared and hopes to start Monday night. He will rejoin Whitey Severson and Archie Browning on the first string line.

YMCA Swimming Classes to Resume

All youngsters who were members of the YMCA swimming classes last year and who wish to re-register for this year, must do so by Saturday.

Last year's pupils will be given preference, and new pupils will be signed starting September 14 if space is available.

Classes will begin in the first week of October. Instructors will be Archie McKinnon, Jack Todd, Bob Johnstone, Ken Hurn and Marg Naysmith.

Teddy's Sister Wins

TORONTO (CP) — Teddy's Sister, the consistent Canadian-bred mare owned by J. J. Fleming of Oshawa, Ont., won a tremendous stretch duel and the $5,000 Seagram Cup Handicap Monday as she nipped Bennington in a photo finish at Woodbine race track.

A Labor Day crowd of 15,000 watched the horses run over a muddy track.

Dominion Series Opens Monday

Shamrocks 12, Pilseners 5

By DENNY BOYD

Sure there's a Santa Claus; an Easter Bunny too. The moon's made of green-cheese and dreams do come true if you wish hard enough and long enough.

Hiddle-diddle, the whole town of Victoria has gone wacky 'cause the Shamrocks are in. After four of the hungriest years in history, our Irish are contenders for that lovable hunk of pewter, the Mann Cup.

Labor Day, September 7, 1953. That was the day that the Shamrocks walloped the Vancouver Pilseners 12-5 to win their first playoff final.

All the bitterness that had accumulated in three previous and unsuccessful efforts at moving to one, losing one game in Vancouver.

The powerful Peterborough Trailermen, rated as the strongest lacrosse team ever assembled in the east, will be the next team to challenge the Shamrock record. Winners of the Ontario lacrosse Association playoffs over St. Catharines, the Petes meet the Rocks in a best-of-seven set for the Canadian championship—the unofficial championship of the world—and the Mann Cup.

First game at Memorial Arena is next Monday.

Concerning the Petes and the Rocks, coach Johnny Cavallin of the defeated Pilseners put himself solidly behind the Rocks.

Truly a Record To Be Proud Of

But all the players allowed themselves just a morsel of justified pride. They went through 16 games during the season without suffering a defeat at home. They disposed of the pestiferous Nanaimo Native Sons in a gruelling five-game series—made gruelling by the great spirit of the Nanaimo team. But still the Rocks won three games on their home floor to run the streak to 19.

And now, the final series is over. The Rocks have taken the Pilseners to camp and still the streak remains a tribute to the Shamrock team — 22 straight games at home without a loss, the Rocks having won the Pilsener series, four games to one.

After the game, one of the nicest things possible happened. Archie Browning and Whitey Severson were named co-winners of the Max McDonald trophy, awarded each year to the most valuable player in the playoffs. The winners were chosen by Victoria and Vancouver sports writers who were unable to decide between the pair. They will share the trophy fog the year.

As for the game itself, it was slightly anti-climatic after what had gone on in previous games. The Pilseners stayed with the Rocks for one quarter but after that, it was just a matter of 5,500 fans waiting for the final whistle so they could hellow themselves hoarse with joy.

Pils' Pilot Rates Irish High

Cavallin, who has piloted the last two western opponents of Peterborough teams said Monday night, while he was congratulating his conquerors, "The Shamrocks can do it. They can take these easterners and it'll be about time. Right now the Shamrocks are on their way up. They couldn't do anything wrong against us in the playoffs and I think they have yet to reach their peak. Severson and Browning are fabulous and so's Ferguson. And don't underseel Jim Hetherington."

More specifically, two Vancouver players who have played against the Petes, warned, "The Rocks can beat them as long as they stay away from them. You can't barge in on the Petes but the Shamrocks can win if they put their hearts into the effort because, much as they wanted the victory for themselves, they recognized the patience of the fans, who have waited a long time for this one."

But for the record, Archie Browning scored three goals and one assist as did rookie Al Gill. Tommy Druce had a goal and two assists and Severson scored two assists.

But the Rocks weren't interested in statistics after the game. They'd proved themselves to themselves and to their wonderful fans. And now they are ready for Peterborough.

Jim Chaired in Fitting Style

The Shamrocks chaired Hetherington after the game and carried him off the floor in style. Getting more terrific with every game, Hetherington gave the Pils three goals in the first period but then locked the door and swallowed the key. Pils beat him once in the second heat and once in the last quarter but that was all.

Meanwhile, his mates scored four goals in the first period, five in the second, when they blew the game open; one in the third quarter and two in the closer.

Every one of the Shamrocks was a star in this one; they all day and then beat the favored White Rock club, 6-3, Monday. They lost to North Shore, 6-5, for the B.C. Senior B Softball championship at Aldergrove, blowing a 3-0 lead.

Competing with six other teams in the double elimination tournament, Tillcums lost to Vernon, 4-1, in the first game Sunday.

Tillicums Defeated in Provincial Tourney

Tillicums' title victory streak finally ended over the weekend in a two-day tournament for the B.C. Senior B Softball championship at Aldergrove, blowing a 3-0 lead.

Competing with six other teams in the double elimination tournament, Tillcums lost to Vernon, 4-1, in the first game Sunday.

Action in Inter-City Cricket Match

Victoria's cricket club climaxed one of the more thrilling matches seen this season here when they defeated Vancouver by two wickets in an intercity match at Beacon Hill oval Monday. Here, S. Clark of Vancouver, is shown batting, while E. Parkins, Victoria's wicket keeper, is in the near background; J. Richards is at right.

Campanella in Home Run Mark

NEW YORK (UP)—Roy Campanella is fast settling most arguments about who should be the National League's most valuable player.

He simply is running away from his competitors with one of the finest all-around jobs ever turned in by a major league catcher. The roly poly Brooklyn receiver now has hit more homers than any other catcher in the history of the business, 39, and has driven in more runs, 136. He has a healthy .320 batting average and generally is acknowledged to be the top receiver in the majors. In every respect he is having a better year than he did in 1951 when he previously won the MVP award.

Monday he broke Bill Dickey's record for RBIs when he smashed a three-run homer in the second game as the Dodgers twice defeated the Phillies by a 6-2 margin and went 13 full games in front of second place Milwaukee. Carl Erskine won his 18th game of the season and his 13th start in the all-star game by scattering eight hits in the opener.

Billy Loes came through with a four-hitter and his first complete game since July 8 to win the second game. Duke Snider hit a homer and single in the opener and two singles in the second game, stretching his hitting streak to 22 games, longest in the majors this season.

Milwaukee came to grief at Chicago, suffering 4-3 and 6-4 defeats. Turk Leonard pitched two and one-third innings of hitless relief ball to win the opener, after Chicago took a permanent lead with a three-run rally in the sixth. Howie Pollet pitched a nine-hitter to gain the second game triumph after the Cubs set him up to four runs in the third inning, two coming on a homer by Dee Fondy.

YANKS SPLIT

In the American League, the Indians moved to within nine games of the Yankees by defeating the Browns, 3-0 and 10-7, while New York split with Boston, losing 7-4 then winning 5-3. Detroit took over sixth place with 6-2 and 4-2 wins over the skidding White Sox, and the Athletics dropped to seventh by losing a pair to Washington, 13-2 and 6-3. In other National League competition, the Cardinals twice defeated Cincinnati, 4-3 and 1-0, and the Pirates humbled the Giants, 9-7 and 5-3.

ROSEN HOMERS

Cleveland completed one of its most successful home stands of all time with its sweep over the Browns, winding up with 18 wins and only two losses. In the opener Bob Lemon pitched six-hit ball for his 19th victory while Early Wynn gained his 17th triumph with three scoreless relief innings in the second game. Rosen hit his 39th homer and Dale Mitchell and Larry Doby also homered. Ted Williams drove in three runs with his ninth homer and a single in Boston's triumph over the Yankees.

Yanofsky Leads

WINNIPEG (CP)—Abe Yanofsky of Winnipeg maintained his half-point lead in the Canadian chess championships Monday as he won a tight victory playing the white against Gerald Fielding of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan champion.

It was Yanofsky's third straight win in three rounds. He recently won the British championship.

Hollywood Captures Coast Championship

By The Canadian Press
The Hollywood Stars are the Pacific Coast League champions for the second straight year, and bantam Bobby Bragan is PCL's man of the hour.

Hollywood backed into the pennant Monday as second-place Seattle lost its first game to Sacramento, 7-3, while the Stars were being shut out by Oakland's Jess Flores, 5-0.

But the men of Bragan came back in the nightcap to defeat the Oaks, 3-1, for their 104th win of the year.

The second games just emphasized the fact that the bunting belongs in movietown. Roy Welmaker, a Portland castoff, pitched the Stars to their 3-1 victory, while Sacramento poured it on Seattle, 13-0.

The Sacs buried the Rainiers under 18 hits in the closer after amassing 13 in the first game. Bud Watkins went the full route and held Seattle to three scattered hits in the second.

Georgson Tops Gun Club Fish Derby

A. Georgson, of Galiano Island, captured first place in the Saanich Rod and Gun Club fishing derby Sunday with a 30-pounder.

Bob Edwards of Victoria placed second with a 12.8-pound catch, while Curtis Burns was third with an 11.8-pound fish.

Hidden weight prizes went to Mr. Parsons with a 4.4-pounder; R. Tutt, 4.8 pounds; G. Ennis, Victoria, 5.8 pounds; R. Hadley, Sidney, 6.10 pounds; R. S. Polson, Saanichton, 7.4 pounds, and Howard Dewley, Sidney, 8.11 pounds.

Dudley Harvey of Sidney won the television set offered as top prize in the draw, while R. Heywood won a pair of blankets.

Kelowna to Meet Bays for B.C. Boxla Crown

KELOWNA (CP)—The Kelowna Bruins entered the British Columbia senior "B" lacrosse final Saturday night, whipping the Rossland Redmen 20-16 for their second straight victory in the best-of-three semi-final.

The loss was Rossland's second of the season. The Bruins snapped the Redmen's 29-game unbeaten string in the first game of the series.

Bruins will meet Victoria's Foul Bay club, winners of the Vancouver Island senior "B" championship, in the provincial final.

Gale II Wins

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit hydroplane Gale II won the Silver Cup speedboat trophy Monday by making the best showing in five 12-mile heats on the Detroit River. Speed honors, however, went to another Detroit craft, Jack Schaefer's Such Crust III, which won the fifth and final heat with a speed that reached 100.87 miles an hour in the first lap.

Both Miss Superst, formerly Miss Canada, now owned by J. Gordon Thompson and James G. Thompson of London, Ont., and Stanley Sayres' favored Slo-Mo-Shun V of Seattle were forced out after the second heat with engine trouble.

Newton New Darling Of Auto Race Fans

Auto racing fans at Shearling's Speedway over the Labor Day week-end were singing praises today of a new track idol at the Cobble Hill cutoff oval.

Recipient of the verbal laurels was newcomer Mike Newton, who stole the show both Saturday and Monday nights.

Monday night Newton, driving a stock car with a new Mercury engine, flashed home in the helmet dash, and first heat and edged Jack Spaulding in a close finish to cop the class A main event.

Portland took a 15-4 drubbing at San Diego in the first game of a double-header, then recovered for a 4-1 win behind Joshie Heard in the second.

San Francisco, driving for the first division, dumped third place Los Angeles twice, 5-4 and 7-2. The first game was an 11-inning affair broken up by Johnny O'Neil's single past third with two outs.

POLICE GUARD MANTLE; YANK STAR THREATENED

BOSTON (AP)—Police in plain clothes were carefully spotted in the packed 32,123 crowd to protect Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees' star outfielder, as he played in an American League doubleheader Monday against Boston Red Sox.

Mantle's life had been threatened in an anonymous type-written letter, addressed to Yankee Stadium and mailed in Boston Aug. 25. At that time the New York club was on the road.

Yankee officials turned the letter over to New York police without informing Mantle. Before the Yankees reached Boston Monday they were joined by a Boston detective who guarded Mantle until he reached Fenway Park.

Two detectives stood guard over him from stations close to the New York bench during the doubleheader and others were scattered throughout the crowd. Two of the officers accompanied Mantle to the railroad station when the club entrained for New York.

Great Pitching Gives Copleys B.C. Crown

Copley Bros. captured the British Columbia junior girls' softball championship in Vancouver Sunday, defeating Vancouver Models, 7-0 and 8-5, to sweep a best-of-three series in straight games.

Strong-armed Shirley Mosley, who hurled a no-hitter for Copleys on Saturday, came through again in the first game Monday, giving up but one hit.

Marie Cooper again provided the batting power, going four for four at the plate, including one triple, and drove in two runs in the fifth inning.

Copleys scored three runs in the seventh and final frame for their 8-5 decision. Marie Cooper started on the mound for the winners, but was relieved by Miss Mosley, after a controversy over her style of pitching.

Miss Mosley came through again, giving up only one run over the remainder of the distance.

Crack B.C. Thinclads Capture Nine Titles

TORONTO (CP)—Canada's first country-wide track and field championships in nearly 20 years ended here Saturday and, as expected, Ontario and British Columbia dominated the two-day meet. They took 22 of the 26 titles at stake.

Ontario's 57-athlete team, almost as numerically strong as the combined forces of Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Saskatchewan, Alberta, and B.C., captured 13 first-place trophies and B.C. won nine.

B.C.'s power-laden 10-man team, liberally sprinkled with athletes with British Empire and Olympic Games experience, will return home loaded with trophies.

Ron and Eleanor Miller, the husband-wife combination from Toronto, both with B.E. and Olympic competition behind them, won most of the individual glory. The 22-year-old Ron won the pole vault with a leap of 12 feet six inches at the start of the meet and followed it Saturday by smashing his own Canadian native record of 13 feet 6 1/2 inches.

His wife, the former Eleanor MacKenzie of Vancouver, was extended to the limit by 17-year-old Dorothy Kozak of Winnipeg to take the women's 100-yard sprint in a photo-finish Saturday, and an hour later made it another close one over the tall Winnipegger in the open 300-yard sprint.

Doug Clement of Vancouver was the only other double winner in individual events. He won the 880 yards Saturday in 1:57.3 and the 440 Friday in 49.8 seconds.

Other B.C. winners: Bill Parnell, Victoria, mile; Alice Whitty, Vancouver, women's high jump; John Pavelich, New Westminster, 16-lb. shot put; David Stafford, Vancouver, running broad jump with a leap of 21 feet 7 1/2 inches; Bruce Springbett, Vancouver, 100-yard dash.

In addition, the B.C. team won the men's 440-yard and mile relays and coach Bruce Humber, who gave lectures in the pre-meet clinic, juggled his team in big-league style. In the sprint relay he used miler Parnell, broad jumper Stafford and quarter-milers Clement and Terry Tobacco.

Eskimos Capture Pair, Riders Upset Bombers

By WALTER GRAY

Billy Vessels got itchy feet and high-tailed it all over the field to give his Edmonton Eskimos twin victories over Calgary while Regina handed Winnipeg Bombers their first loss.

The 1953 Canadian football season got the 'highball sign during the Labor Day week-end and thousands of fans cheered.

Nine games were played in the three major leagues: Big Four—Ottawa Rough Riders defeated Montreal Alouettes 26-6 in Ottawa Saturday and Hamilton Tiger-Cats downed Toronto 14-12 in Hamilton Monday.

Western Interprovincial Football Union—Edmonton Eskimos defeated Calgary Stampeders 18-6 in Calgary Saturday and again, 19-5, in Edmonton Monday night. Saskatchewan Roughriders downed Winnipeg Blue Bombers 23-19 in Regina Monday.

Ontario Rugby Football Union—Sarnia Imperials turned back Brantford Redskins 9-8 in Brantford Saturday night. Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen trounced Toronto Balmy Beach 24-14 in Toronto Saturday and the Beach squeezed out a 9-8 win over the Imperials in Sarnia Monday.

In the western conference Billy Vessels, import halfback from Oklahoma Sooners, gave the fans their money's worth with his sparkling running plays.

Saturday night, the fans in Calgary's Mewata Stadium hardly had a chance to look over the line-up before Vessels scooted 95 yards for a touchdown from the opening kick-off. Edmonton end Tom Stohlanske caught a touchdown pass and Wilbur Snyder converted for a healthy lead.

In the final quarter Steve Mendryk snared a Vessels' pass from the six-yard line and Snyder converted. On the kick-off, Calgary's Pete Thodos was roused on Snider's long boot. Stampeders' touchdown came when John Henry Johnson plunged over the line. Pete Thodos got the convert.

Monday in Edmonton, only the thrilling end runs of Vessels and Rolfie Miles, plus the sharp passing of Claude Arnold gave the 15,500 fans a glimpse of good ball.

Eskimo touchdowns were by Arnold, Miles and Mendryk. Line-backer Ted Tully kicked three converts and Eskimos added a rouge. Elusive half Pete Thodos gave the Stamps their major.

The double win put the Eskimos in a first-place tie with the Blue Bombers with three wins each. Calgary is tied for third place with Saskatchewan.

FIRST DEFEAT

Former Dallas Texans' quarterback Frank Tripucka gave Saskatchewan the incentive to defeat Winnipeg—its first win of the young season and bombers' first loss.

Rider majors were scored by Nellie Greene, Stan Williams, Mac Speedie and Herb Johnson. Red Whitehouse booted three converts.

Lorne Benson crossed over for two Winnipeg touchdowns and Neil Armstrong got the other.

Layne Meets Walls

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Utah's Rex Layne will be put to the test tonight when he climbs into the ring for a heavyweight encounter with 10th-ranked Earl Walls of Edmonton.

Tonight's fight will determine whether the new thyroid-treated Layne is really the old Layne after all. The test comes under the stars at the Utah fairgrounds.

Rowdy Rex is the underdog in this showdown. Once ranked second-best among the challengers, Layne fell out of the listings and in his last outing—against Walls—he suffered the worst licking of his career.

Walls laid Layne out with one hard jolt in the first round last July.

Show It, Mr. Mowat

(Rebel that is)
... it's the poor man's "Butcherts"

Hello September, & how are you?

Just what's to come, I haven't a clue. But so far Sept., you're doing fine. Your sun & stars continue to shine.

To make my dahlias, bulge such a size. I'm sure, if I could, I'd win first prize.

They're out on the street, by the garden gate. They're bigger by far than a large dinner plate.

I listen to people make odd whistling sounds. "I'll bet," said one, "that weighs 50 pounds."

"Just LOOK at this thing," said a passer-by. To hold up it's head, it surely did try.

It seems such a shame, it has to droop. There's a horticulturist here, & he's sure got a scoop.

They can't hardly see me, as I laze in my chair. "Great Heavens," exclaimed an elderly pair.

"What's he put in the soil, Mr. Mowat? Or maybe he knows that writer 'Chest-nut'."

Who knows about flowers, & what makes them rare. He now tills the soils, when he used to tell-air. (CJVT)

"WHAT a gorgeous color," another one cried. This russet-rose, with a hauser he's tied.

But a hauser my friends is not strong enough. So come, drive by, and see my stuff.

Bring me some chains, or cable of wire. But hurry up, before they all tire.

I'll saw you off one, before they are thru. And I'll throw in some earwigs, A BUSHEL OR TWO.

Furillo-Durocher Feud at Climax

NEW YORK (AP)—Brooklyn's Carl Furillo, who was injured in Sunday's brawl with New York Giants, is through for the season.

Girodays Cop Western Canada Softball Title

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Girodays scored victories on the field and in the committee room Monday to capture the western senior men's softball championship.

Big John Beattie Ridley, ace import right-hander on the Vancouver squad and storm centre of an eligibility squabble, hurled Girodays to a 3-1 victory over Lethbridge Shaughnessy Cadillacs for a clean sweep of the best-of-five championship series by the Vancouver squad.

Vancouver, with Ridley again in the starring role, swept a Sunday doubleheader 6-0, 7-5.

Ridley, a husky Negro ball-hawk who formerly played in the United States, was ruled eligible for the series at a meeting of softball association officials Monday despite Lethbridge protests.

Lethbridge played both the second and third games under protest, claiming Ridley was ineligible. However, they did not protest the first game of the series Sunday when Ridley tossed a no-hit, no-run game against them. It was the second no-hitter in western playoff history. Winnipeg Nor

THE DOCTOR SAYS By EDWIN JORDAN, MD

Don't Avoid Examination for Irregular Heartbeat

Several readers have recently asked if an irregular heartbeat is serious and just what it means to the general health. This is a worthwhile question, since many people at one time or another during life notice an irregularity of the heartbeat and often become extremely and perhaps unnecessarily worried about it.

When someone notices that the heart skips a beat now and again, or seems to be beating irregularly, the condition should not be ignored. Physical examination should certainly not be avoided, though many people do this in the apparent fear that the physician will find something wrong which the patient does not really want to know.

Actually, one of the most common causes for an irregular beating of the heart is a condition called extra systole, which is characterized by an occasional extra beat of the heart followed by a pause. This is not painful, though a person who has it is usually conscious of the change in heartbeat.

This type of irregularity is not usually a true evidence of heart disease, and, while it should be identified by professional examination, is not a cause for undue worry.

The cause or causes of extra systole cannot always be discovered. Some people get rid of this condition by stopping smoking and others by leading a quieter life.

Another rather common type of heart irregularity is called paroxysmal tachycardia. Paroxysmal tachycardia merely means a heart which beats too fast every once in a while. Many people have this for years without any apparent harm.

Whatever the cause of the irregular heartbeat, the first step is to make an exact diagnosis and the second to adjust the treatment to the individual circumstances. No two people are exactly alike and consequently the outlook for their future health and well-being varies.

... And Then There Were Three

Heading for a spill was Puddy Cat, fourth outboard spraycutter shown racing for hairpin turn at buoy, extreme right. Turned turtle and swamped the craft had to be towed to the beach while other boats buzzed on like angry wasps. Puddy Cat was only casualty in four and a half hours of racing.

Powerboats Thrill Spectator Crowd on Willows Waterfront

No championships toppled at the annual Labor Day Speedboat regatta held off Willows Beach, for none was at stake, but the 17th annual event of the Victoria Inboard and Outboard Association this year sent thousands of Victorians home thrilled and happy.

The regatta was a body-bruising spectacle of speed and spray engaged in by many of B.C.'s top waterbats who displayed all the steam and stamina of big-time meets. And behind the scenes there was the drama that makes boat-racing a top crowd pleaser.

The story of Ar-Tee-Jay is one instance. She is a class B inboard capable of speeds close to 85 miles per hour. She's the last year's boast of local sportsman Reg Jackson made good. He promised in 1952 that he'd have a winner in the 135 inboard hydroplane class for '53 and in the first heat the cheering watchers agreed he had the boat. Also known as Slo-Mo's Pup, the Ar-Tee-Jay was built by Seattle's Ted Jones, designer of the record-smashing Slo-Mo-Shuns IV and V.

BACK ON COURSE

Reg Jackson's boat clunked out with a blown gasket before the heat was done but the determined boatman wouldn't give in. Running his boat to the pit area, he pulled both engine heads on his powerful V-8 engine, crammed in new gaskets and took once more to the mile-long course.

At speeds which lifted his bouncing craft completely out of the water at times, he won the second heat.

In the inboard open five-mile final race the Ar-Tee-Jay was edged out by Mercury VII, Vancouver-owned by Charlie Kobus, which went the distance in 4 minutes and 22 seconds.

Longest race of the day was an eight-lap outboard marathon... ten miles with red-hot motors for the Native Sons of Canada Trophy.

Not raced for in post-war years the cup was taken by Fred Graham in Susy Q for his sixth win in six starts.

Casualties were light through the four hours of breakneck thrills. One boat only, Puddy Cat, failed to make a turn and capsized, but nearly every event was marked by some motor failure.

Chairman and announced George Davis, equipped with an excellent new public address system, kept every event running on schedule.

Here are the race results in order of winning:

Class B outboard utility, first heat—Susy-Q, Dolly, PU.

Seamen Strike Vote Results May Be Known by Thursday

MONTREAL (CP)—The result of a vote of 4,000 Canadian seamen on strike action may not be known until Thursday, a spokesman for the Seafarers' International Union AFL-TLC said Monday night.

Ernie Hughes, chairman of the union's negotiating committee, said polling of the seamen aboard ships is not yet complete.

The vote will decide the membership's stand on a labor conciliation board report which rejected the union's bid for an immediate reduction in the work week from 56 to 40 hours. The board suggested a gradual reduction. The strike could tie up 99 per cent of Canadian shipping on the Great Lakes and seriously threaten the whole Canadian shipping industry.

School for young sKavers

Right now is a good time to remind yourself that your children's education doesn't stop at day-school. For instance, your neighbourhood branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia can be another school—a school where children learn the value of thrift and methodical saving—the vital lesson of planning for the future. Your part is quite simple—just suggest that they open a Savings Account at The Bank. Then let them do the rest. Your Bank of Nova Scotia is staffed by friendly people who are used to dealing sympathetically with the big problems of small persons. They will explain everything to young customers, and help this new adventure along to a happy conclusion.

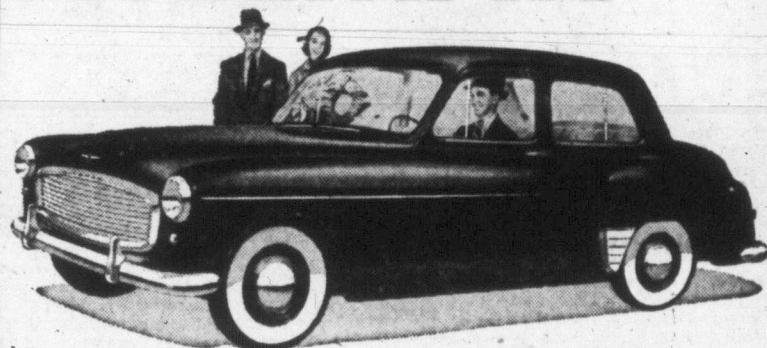

And unless you've done so already, you would be setting a very good example by opening a Savings Account for yourself.

Your BNS Manager is a good man to know. At the Victoria Main Branch he is T. L. C. McMaster. At the Douglas and Hillside Branch he is P. L. Underwood.

Jerry Hansen, Port Alberni, speeds to finish line in Labor Day soap box derby on Yates Street to win Island crown. Tommy Millard, Chemainus, follows.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

Take a Memo, Miss Fiditch:
To the Sun: It's Okay, you can start shining again. The holidays are all over.
(Anyway, it was a lovely summer we had Saturday).

To the business editor: Suggest you do some research on the newest economic trend in Canada.

For your information, this is the ultra-progressive un-business theory of economic development.

Recent indications of the trend towards unbusiness have been especially noticeable in the transportation field (or should we say, the untransportation field?).

The CPR for instance, has proved conclusively it can make more money (or lose less) by unoperating ships to various points.

Donald Gordon, of the CNR, has indicated his company would be much better off if it could start unoperating various spur and branch lines.

And the BCER finds the only way to economic stability is to reduce bus service, which is the first step toward unoperating.

I suggest you start researching now for your year's end unbusiness review.

To kids going back to school: Please go easy on teacher, kids. Teacher isn't any happier to be back at work than you are.

And please be especially kind to new teachers, exposed for the first time to the harsh realities of education in the raw.

Brand new teachers are delicate creatures, but if you are patient, kids, you will be able to train them in a few weeks.

To self-satisfied parents basking in silence while the kids are at school: Only 15 weeks to the Christmas holidays, parents.

To Jerry Hansen, winner of the Soap Box derby: How many miles are you getting to the gallon these days?

To a friend of ours who hasn't spoken to his wife in six months: Don't you think it would be safe to interrupt her now?

To hunters preparing for the fall season: Remember to get a new license. You can't use last year's license just because you're shooting at the game you missed last year.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Colonel B. Rickard, a noted authority on African affairs, will speak on "Africa" at Wednesday's meeting of the Victoria White Canoe Club at the Blind Service Centre, 1609 Blanshard Street. Duncan Skerthley will entertain with comic songs. The meeting starts at 2.15 p.m., and visitors will be welcome on payment of 15 cents for tea.

Philip Fisher, president of the Southam Company of Canada, Montreal, was a Victoria visitor over the week-end.

There was an overflowing gallery at city police court today in the hope that the City of Victoria vs. the Haigh and Haigh cases would proceed. The Rockland Avenue Haighs were further remanded to September 17 at the request of Prosecutor Alan E. Bigelow, who noted that an important witness was not immediately available. J. A. Byers is counsel for Harry and Florence Haigh.

Richard Lloyd Sewell, Victoria, was sentenced to 14 days in jail at a special sitting of Esquimalt police court today when he was convicted on a charge of driving a car while his ability was impaired by alcohol. He admitted to Magistrate H. C. Hall he had been convicted for the same offense in Saanich court July 2, 1953. There is not option of a fine for a second offense. Sewell was also fined $35 for driving a car while his license was suspended. Jack Rutan appeared as his counsel.

Fine of $75 was imposed against Leon John Nott, 3073 Albina, when he appeared before Magistrate H. C. Hall at a special sitting of Saanich police court today for sentence on a charge of stealing gasoline.

W. A. Scott's rebel Social Credit group will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's Hall, Yale Street.

The meeting is open to the public.

Mr. Scott will give his impressions of "what good honest government should stand for."

WINS SOAPY DERBY

'52 Champion Still Reigns

By DON INGHAM

Jerry Hansen of Port Alberni drove his speedy coaster to his second-straight victory in the Vancouver Island championship soap box derby on Yates Street course.

The tall, good-looking youngster, who will pass his 16th birthday (age limit for contestants), before the 1954 season rolls around, will leave his name on the Victoria Daily Times Trophy in both the 1952 and 1953 shields of honor. This year he also won $50 in cash.

A crowd of about 3,000 saw the young west coast driver win over Tommy Millard and Glenn Woodley, both of Chemainus, who survived the long elimination heats that proved them the fastest three of upwards of 40 Class A drivers entered in the meet.

Jerry was paced in his championship run at 27 miles per hour, and the second and third-place winners were close behind.

The Millard family of Chemainus did well in the meet, with a little sister taking the honors in Class B, for non-regulation cars.

Tiny Ten-Year-Old Best in Her Class

Tiny and pretty, Dorothy Millard, 10, proved herself to be one of the best with a clear-cut victory in her class that won her the Blue Line trophy and $30.

A special race inaugurated this year for Victoria drivers in Class A was won by Wilf Tucker, 13, of 2632 Shelbourne Street, who was awarded the Gibson Bowldrome cup and $40.

Winner of the Langford Speedway trophy for the best looking car was Wayne Stilling, 13, of Nanaimo, who last year won the now-discontinued Class A consolation race.

Racing a Class A car is a business that calls for strict regulation, and the youngsters are well prepared. Following mechanical and safety inspection each car was weighed by A. J. Worth on Toledo scales, and if car and driver weighed more than 250 pounds the entry was disqualified.

The drivers were ready, though, and all had weights in their cars that could be removed to bring them under the maximum.

The Vancouver Island championship seems to like Port Alberni. Prior to Jerry Hansen's two victories the trophy was won by Dennis Weibel, also of Port Alberni.

It was the Class B cars, though, that captured the hearts of the crowd. They ranged from sleek speedsters like that driven by Jojo Barlow, Victoria, only other girl driver in the meet, to planks with four wheels and a rickety box, and steered by ropes.

Class B Drivers All Get Cash Prizes

Every non-winner in Class B received more than $1 cash this year through equal division of $30 contributed by Safeway Cleaners especially for the Class B drivers just breaking into racing.

The first 35 drivers to enter each received sweaters bearing the names of the three co-sponsors — Wilson Motors Ltd., Knights of Pythias and the Times.

Everyone taking part in the running of the races did an excellent job, including a Wilson Motors crew that handled the ramp and returning of cars to the pits, Knights of Pythias who "expedited" under direction of Arch McKeever, race chairman, and city police and Legion of Frontiersmen who patrolled the course and made racing safe for the little bugs.

Judges this year were Magistrate A. I. Thomas, Acting Police Chief Harry Mercer, Ald. Frank Mulliner, Lieut. Cmdr. Ian McDonald, Lieut. Col. J. C. Cave and Sqdn. Ldr. Hugh Campbell.

Starter for the eighth successive year was Bob Owen. Complete results follow:

Class A, Vancouver Island championship—Jerry Hansen, Port Alberni; Tommy Millard, Chemainus; Glenn Woodley, Chemainus.

Class A, Victoria city—Wilf Tucker, Merton Simpson, Ken Houston.

Class B—Dorothy Millard, Chemainus; David Jones, Victoria; Robert McIlloin, Victoria.

Six-Week Course For CD Scheduled

Four civil defense classes will be started in Oak Bay Municipal Hall next week.

Target area director, L. G. Hatcher, said today separate classes will commence Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and will continue on those nights for six weeks at 8 p.m.

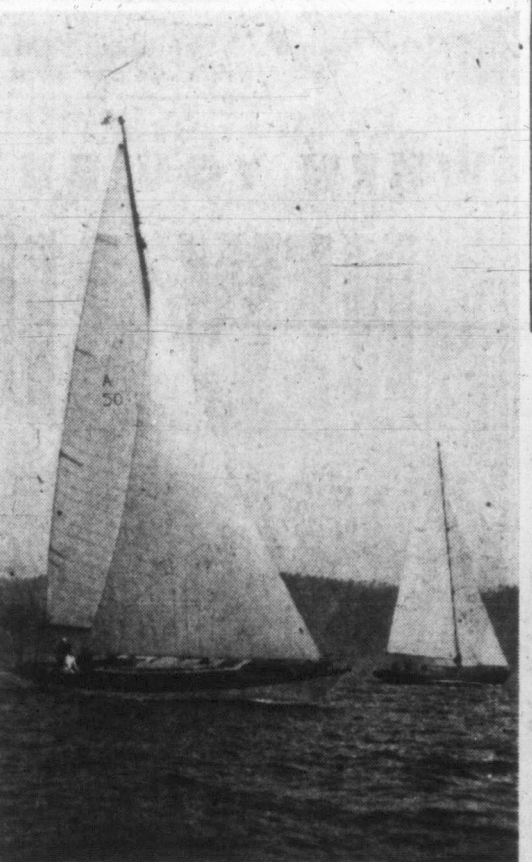

Anyone in Greater Victoria may attend the lectures which will qualify recruits for a subsequent first aid course.

The choice of four nights is hoped to enable wives and husbands with young families to attend.

Mr. Hatcher added that emphasis will be given to recruiting through the fall both for regular trainees and nurses aides.

"Classes will be held where ever people want them," he said.

Secretaries of organizations which might prefer to take the course within their own group should contact CD headquarters at B7533.

Fair Winds, Close Races Feature Cowichan Bay Regatta

Sleek racing craft from Victoria, Vancouver, Maple Bay, RCN Sailing Association and Seattle yacht clubs spread their wings to catch good sailing winds Sunday at the annual Cowichan Bay International Regatta. Major prizes at stake where Sir Thomas Lipton and Cowichan Bay Cups.

Trophy Winners Proud; Fair Sex Invades 'Champions' Row

2 More Island Polio Cases Over Week-End

Up-Island Man, City Tot Victims

Polio struck twice over the Labor Day week-end to send a four-year-old city boy and a young man from Courtenay to isolation at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

They were the 46th local case and the 57th Vancouver Island case of the disease to be recorded this year. There have only been two deaths.

Charts maintained on the progress of the outbreak since it was first noted in May reached a peak in early August and have shown a distinct decline in number of cases reported ever since.

However, the disease cannot be claimed as stamped out until a 10 or 12-day incubation period has followed the last reported case.

Hospital authorities meanwhile are still fighting the outbreak with respirators and polio packs borrowed from other hospitals including St. Joseph's, DVA and the RCN.

Vic Van Isle Kinsmen gathered funds by public subscription totalling $2,100 to provide an additional iron lung for the hospital, also.

However, medical administrator at the hospital, Dr. J. L. M. Anderson, advised today that a longer time lapse noted between cases recently has released some of equipment as patients pass the acute stage.

Should polio increase slightly no new equipment crisis is expected.

Police Shot Fails To Halt Fugitives

Shop-Breakers Finally Caught After Escaping Earlier Pursuit

Three youths who fled from the scene of a shop-breaking, leaving a companion in the hands of police, escaped a constable's bullet and dodged pursuit early today. . . . They were later captured and charged.

All four pleaded guilty in city police court. Break-in at John Meston Ltd., auto body repair shop at 932 Johnson, was one of several premises entered during the week-end.

James George Stuart, Raymond Williams and William McKee, all naval ratings, and Rodney W. S. Wells, 869 Humboldt, answered the charge.

Their loot was $1.95 in stamps, 65 cents in pennies, nickels and dimes. Their sentences will be handed down Friday.

Prowl cars raced to the Meston premises at 4.50 a.m. in response to a telephoned warning. Stuart was found hiding in the building. The other three were in a parked car, which set off at high speed, its lights out, when police approached.

Constable Brian Ferguson told the court he had attempted to halt the fleeing car with a revolver shot.

The fugitives raced south on Vancouver Street, west on Fort, almost knocking down a constable who tried to flag them down.

Police finally lost the car but they had its license number.

LOOT IN PENNIES

Capital Cleaners, North Park Street, was entered by a forced window and about $5 in pennies taken during the week-end.

From Rocky's Cafe, 2016 Douglas, burglars took only foodstuffs, and a quantity of cigarettes.

Juveniles are believed responsible for breaking into the home of Mrs. E. Britt, 570 Bay.

CITY YACHTSMAN FIRST IN PREDICTED LOG RACE

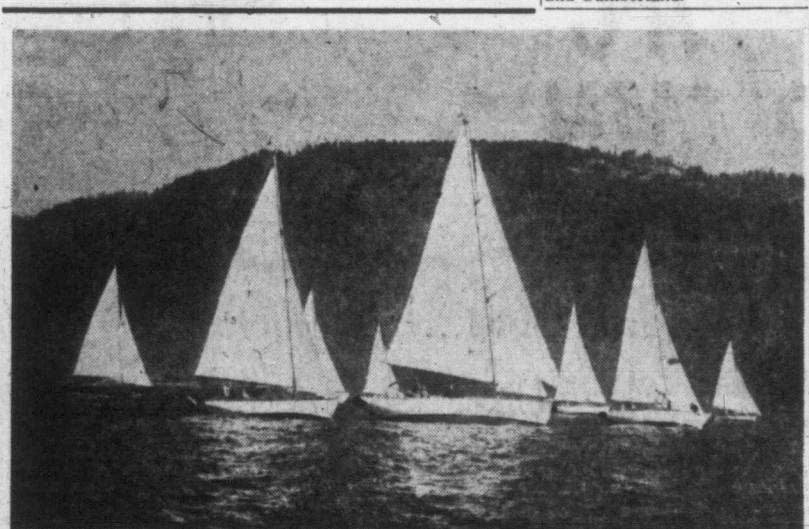

Nanaimo Yacht Club members finished one-two-three in the annual Nanaimo-Victoria predicted log race for cruisers Sunday, as all entries showed remarkably small percentage errors over their predicted times.

G. H. "Joker" Patton, who lives in Victoria but sails under Nanaimo colors, was first, piloting Eileen, with an error of 1.536 per cent.

Second place went to the Nanaimo club's commodore, C. W. S. Warren, in Philomar, with an error of 2.222 per cent. Close behind in third place was another Nanaimo entry, H. Madill in Reverie, with an error of 2.223 per cent.

Leading Victoria entry was Moia, F. W. Francis, in Madill with an error of 2.52, followed by Nanaimo's Kit-Gard, H. M. Wilson, with a 2.53 error.

There were 14 entries, six from Victoria, seven from Nanaimo, and one from Seattle.

Fair Winds, Close Races Feature Cowichan Bay Regatta

It was Cowichan Bay's biggest regatta to date, featured by exceptionally close racing in many classes.

CONVENTION DELEGATES OFF TO SEA

Blue ink will be swapped for blue water Wednesday afternoon when a host of conventioners and their wives head seaward with the navy aboard HMCS Ontario and Sioux.

Passengers will be delegates to the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants, meeting at the Empress this week.

The short voyage will relieve pressure of business sessions that got under way today and will continue until Thursday.

Audit of management methods and systems was discussed by Professor E. D. MacPhee, director of UBC School of Commerce, as session's first item. A report on his speech is carried on page 7.

Representative of the Aluminum Company of Canada, George G. Vincent completed the day with a talk entitled "Prelude to Kitimat."

Scottish Scouts' Chief Speaks Here

"Scouting . . . a Contribution to Better Citizenship," will be the topic of Sir Ian Bolton, guest speaker at Victoria Rotary luncheon, Thursday.

Lord Lieutenant of Stirling-shire, Scotland, and president of the Scottish Boy Scouts, Sir Ian is also vice-president of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Scotland. He is attending the CICA convention here this week.

Earlier this summer he visited Canada as representative of the Commonwealth chief scout, Lord Rowallan, and attended the Second Canadian Boy Scout Jamboree at Ottawa. Since then he has been visiting scout troops across Canada.

ASK The TIMES

Q—How old is Prince Rupert?—G.T.A.

A—It was incorporated as a city in 1910.

Q—In an excellent broadcast of bird calls and songs from the Delta bird preserve in Manitoba last Wednesday evening we heard Franklin gulls, Richardson's geese, swans, baldpate ducks or widgeons, loons and many others. Are all those named to be seen on Vancouver Island, either in migration or meeting?—H.W.V.

A—Franklin gulls have been seen at Okanagan Lake, at Alta Lake along the PGE Railway and in the Peace River country, but there are no Vancouver Island reports. Richardson's geese have visited Hardy Bay, northern Vancouver Island. Whistling swans are known to Victorian familiar with Swan and other lakes hereabouts. Widgeons are well known on the lake in Beacon Hill Park. The loon, whose weird call came so clearly in the broadcast, is that great northern diver of these waters. Its call is not much heard in this region. It prefers the lonely, unsettled reaches, ranging into the far north.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest.

SHOPPING GUIDE

'Little Indian' Suede Shoes Are Soft, Plaid-Lined . . .

By PENNY SAVER

Back-to-school wardrobes for the 'teen-age miss aren't complete without the new "Little Indian" shoes. They are made of soft suede, which is cut with a high-ankle forming a point at the heel. Laces are tipped with arrow-shaped pieces of suede and shoes are lined with bright-hued plaids. These perky little knock-about shoes come in all the most popular fall colors and are priced at $6.98 a pair. With skirts and sweaters they look great!

Knick-knacks fashioned from nuts can make the cutest gifts, especially when they have funny faces painted on them and represent animals. Nuts gathered from the trees of British Columbia have been made into such novelties as squirrels, birds and crocodiles. Personality has been added to the pieces with touches of bright paint and they are all shellacked to give a shiny finish. Each novelty is glued to a base of wood, also shellacked, and painted with "Victoria, B.C." Prices range from 49 cents to 69 cents each.

Saw some of those ever-popular cincher-belts made entirely from sequins today! In practically any color, they are priced at $2.98. Cinchers made of gold or silver metallic thread are $1.25. Another style available in plain colors has an attractive pearl-studded buckle and costs $1.98. Now if you've been looking for something very plain, with a plain gold buckle, the cinchers are also sold at 95 cents.

Gabardine Eisenhower jackets for little boys are waterproof and cost $2.75. They're smartly tailored for school wear.

Something rather striking in the jewelry line is a necklace made from queen's head coins. There must be about 16 or 17 coins on the "silver" necklace, which sells at $2. Matching bracelets or earrings are $1 each. The set of three would make a dark sweater or dress look stunning!

Returning From Europe

Miss Norma Douglas will return to Victoria Wednesday after spending the summer in Great Britain and Europe. Among places visited by Miss Douglas were France, Italy, Switzerland, where she attended an outstanding musical festival, and Edinburgh. She sailed for home on the Ss. Elizabethan, landing at New York, and has been visiting in eastern Canada.

Quiet Ceremony Unites Couple At Home Wedding

Standard baskets of white and pink gladioli decorated the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Austin, 1139 Empress Avenue, Saturday evening for the wedding of their daughter, Irene Keown, who became the bride of Douglas Ritchie, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ritchie. Rev. Douglas B. Carr performed the ceremony. An afternoon dress of periwinkle blue taffeta was worn by the bride, and she was given in marriage by her father. She wore matching accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Maid of honor was Miss Iris

HMCS Naden Chapel Scene Of Wedding

The altar of HMCS Naden chapel was decorated with arrangements of gladioli and orchids in fall tones, Friday evening, when Margaret Elizabeth McNeely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. N. McNeely, 45 Knollwood Road, became the bride of PO William Robert Walters, HMCS Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence J. Walters, Pictou, Ont., in a ceremony performed by Padre D. G. Peebles, R.N.

The bridal gown was styled on Coronation lines with full-length lace redingote featuring long, cuffed sleeves and stand-up Elizabethan collar over nylon net. A fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a lace bandeau embroidered with crystal beads from the wedding gown of the bride's mother. The bride carried a white Bible adorned with talisman roses and cynoglossum.

Mrs. Jean Forrester was bridesmatron in a period gown of pink taffeta and nylon. She carried a colonial bouquet in pink and blue. Nephew of the groom, Douglas Walters, was best man, and ushers were Dr. Ross D. G. McNeely, brother of the bride, and LSSW2 G. Hutchings.

The bride's mother, wearing a dress of turquoise nylon faconne with corsage of yellow roses and navy accessories, assisted in receiving guests at the reception, held at the View Royal Community Hall, which was decorated in fall flowers for the occasion. A pair of miniature anchors topped the three-tier wedding cake.

Mr. Clifford J. Way proposed the toast to the bride. Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. J. G. McNeely, Regina, Sask., brother of the bride, and Miss Cathy Unterreiner of Regina, Sask.

The newlyweds will motor on honeymoon to Ontario and Quebec, returning via the United States. For traveling, Mrs. Walters chose a suit of rust and blue tweed with matching hat, alligator accessories, nylon blouse and corsage of talisman roses and cynoglossum. Mr. and Mrs. Walters will live in Victoria.

AS WE LIVE

Ask This Woman To Be Your Wife

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

Just because a girl is friendly with another man is no reason for a man not to declare his love for her and ask her to marry him. A young man writes:

(Q) "I am 28. Of late I feel that I am very much in love with a young lady of 27. When I am not with her I am always thinking of her and am always trying to bump into her. She is very attractive and wholesome. She is in with a fellow in a Veterans' Hospital who can neither provide for himself nor a wife. Although I know she cares for him, she must also know the tragic future for herself if she marries him. Would it be wrong for me to mention marriage to her as I know she is the only one I'll ever love, or should I wait?"

(A) I see no reason for you to wait to declare your love for the girl you want to make your wife. In fact if you wait she may feel that you are not interested in her and may decide, out of pity, to marry the young man in the Veterans' Hospital.

You have no real reason to think she is in love with this veteran or that either has ever thought of the possibility of marriage. It may be a case of friendship of long standing or it may merely be that she feels sorry for him and wants to give him some meaning by going to see him.

So long as you are certain that she is the woman for you the chances are that she likes you and finds you as attractive as you find her. Otherwise she would not go out with you or give you any reason to feel that you are in love with her.

The next time you are with her, if the opportunity is ripe, ask her to marry you. If she has already decided to marry the other man or is seriously interested in him, she will tell you frankly how she feels about him and about you. Then you will know where you stand.

As matters are now, you are uncertain of how you stand. You are putting her in the same position. She is uncertain of asking her to marry you and whether you have any thoughts of asking her to marry you. Why not clear the atmosphere for both of you by asking her to be your wife?

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

Grandmother's Cameo Brooch Is Worn By Bride Making Vows at First United

An heirloom cameo brooch belonging to her grandmother was worn Monday-afternoon by Norma Frances, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Dickie, 1024 Pakington Street, when she repeated wedding vows with William Douglas McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. MacDougall, 2119 Oak Bay Avenue, in a ceremony at First United Church. Her full-length bridal gown was fashioned of ivory satin with strapless bodice and bouffant overskirt of tulle, which featured a satin floating panel at front. She wore a satin jacket buttoned to a high rolled collar. Her chapel-length veil of illusion net foamed from a half-Juliet cap of satin trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of talisman roses and feathered carnations.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and gold chrysanthemums for the ceremony, performed by Rev. M. A. J. Waters. Guest pews were marked with baby chrysanthemums. Wedding music was played by Mrs. Roberto Wood. Mr. Dickie gave his daughter in marriage.

Maid of honor was Miss Marjorie Young, who wore a gown of autumn gold net with matching bolero of velvet. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums in a lighter gold tone. Miss Lynne-Marie Shirley was flower girl, wearing a gown of gold and bronze net over pale green taffeta and carrying a basket of gold and white baby chrysanthemums.

Donald B. Hope was best man and ushers were William K. Cross and Robert Young. Mothers of the young couple assisted in receiving guests at the reception, held in Terry's Rose Room. Mrs. Dickie chose a dress of woodland rose brocade with matching accessories and corsage of pale yellow rosebuds, and Mrs. McDougall wore a Gaynes blue taffeta dress with white accessories and stephanotis, en corsage.

The wedding cake, which centred the lace-covered bridal table, was flanked by pale pink candles. Miss V. Critchard played piano selections. Toast to the bride was proposed by George Sargison.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Benton and Mark, Sherwood Martin and Bob Joyce, Seattle; Mrs. Elsie Peacock, Miss Frances Peacock, Vancouver, and Mrs. J. D. McIntosh, Chilliwack.

For a honeymoon Up-Island and on the mainland, Mrs. McDougall donned a gold dressmaker suit with brown accessories. She wore a brown mouton-jacket and Talisman roses en corsage. Mr. and Mrs. McDougall will live at 3708 University Way, Seattle.

Dinner at Government House

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Clarence Wallace entertained at dinner Saturday night, at Government House, when their guests were Mrs. Beverly Baxter, England, and Col. and Mrs. Gordon M. Letson of Vancouver.

Meet at Shawnigan Beach Hotel

Executive committee of the General Practitioners of British Columbia met recently at Shawnigan Beach Hotel. They were accompanied by their wives and children, who enjoyed a pleasant week-end at the resort. Those attending the meeting were Dr. J. F. Sparling, Dr. J. P. Wellwood, Dr. J. H. Black, Dr. Robert A. Stanley, Dr. R. A. Gilchrist and Dr. E. C. McCoy, all of Vancouver, and Dr. R. A. Gale and Dr. Vincent Smith, Victoria.

Attend Krul-Shaw Wedding

Miss Denise Mara, Vancouver, flew to Victoria this week-end to attend the Krul-Shaw wedding. While in the city she stayed at the home of her mother, Mrs. F. D. Mara, 820 Pemberton Road. Other Vancouver guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. A. English, Mr. and Mrs. M. Mills and Mr. and Mrs. P. Rising.

Home From Summer Study

Miss Kathleen Baker of the staff of Victoria Normal School, has returned from Seattle, where she spent the summer studying for her Master's degree in drama at the University of Washington.

To Teach at Vancouver

Miss Marilyn Leigh left for Vancouver this week-end to resume her duties as teacher at University Hill School. She spent the summer months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Leigh, 736 Newport Avenue.

Register at B.C. House

Those registering at British Columbia House, London, Eng., recently, were Mr. David Price, Mrs. Margaret E. Stein, Mr. J. J. Noid, Mr. Robert C. Chadwick, Mrs. Carol Cawickell, Mr. A. F. Leeming and Miss Margaret Pollard, all of Victoria, and Miss Mona Leskey, Elk Lake.

Pat Emery Feted

Mrs. C. W. Rae and Mrs. George F. Thackray were co-hostesses recently at the home of the latter, 1411 Fairfield Road, when they entertained in honor of Miss Pat Emery, a September bride-elect. The affair took the form of a surprise miscellaneous shower and the honor guest received a wishing well full of gifts and a corsage of carnations and sweet peas. Corsages of roses were presented to her mother, Mrs. D. M. Emery, and to mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. M. Martindale. Supper was served from a table set with a cluny lace cloth, silver bowl of roses and pink candles. Games were played during the evening, winners being Mrs. Emery and Miss Muriel Gates. Assembled guests included Mrs. A. Duncan, Mrs. E. A. Law, Mrs. Murray Mitchell, Mrs. Larry Dunkley, Mrs. R. D. Harvey, Mrs. W. Bradbeer, Mrs. Robert Stark and the Misses Clara Graham, M. Gates and Ruth Pearce.

Nancy Barbara Shaw Married Saturday

Ice blue was the shade chosen by Nancy Barbara Shaw for her portrait, bridal gown of satin brocade, styled with sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves and bouffant skirt, for the ceremony which united her with William Krul, Saturday evening. A Mary Stuart headdress held her chapel-length veil, also of blue, and she carried a bible topped with cascading carnations in blue and white. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace belonging to her mother.

Rev. Moir A. J. Waters performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Shaw, "Barimana," Saanichton, and the son of Mrs. N. Krul, Emerson, Man., and the late Mr. Krul. Baskets of gladioli decorated First United Church for the occasion and during the signing of the register, R. Wood sang "Because." The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Mrs. Myrna Palmer was matron of honor. Her gown of deep blue tulle was styled with off-shoulder neckline and bouffant skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue and yellow carnations.

Nieces of the bride, Misses Judith and Pamela Shaw, junior bridesmaids, were gowned alike in pale yellow tulle. Necklines of their gowns were trimmed with blue flowers and they carried small colonial bouquets of blue and yellow carnations.

Bert Palmer was best man. Brothers of the bride, Group Capt. Richard Shaw and Basil Shaw, ushered guests to pews marked with yellow marguerites.

Reception was held at the

Western Tour of ACWW Delegates Impresses Women From Many Lands

"The first name and the middle name for Canada is Prosperity!" This is Mrs. Bjorne Sawverud's impression at the end of an east-west tour of Canada which culminated in Victoria Monday.

Mrs. Sawverud of Bergen, Norway, is one of a group of 21 women representing 11 countries, who took part in the western tour following the seventh triennial conference of the Associated Countrywomen of the World in Toronto.

In general, the delegates who began their British Columbia visit at Salmon Arm on Thursday of last week, were unanimous in their reaction to what they had seen. They were impressed by three things: Vastness, hospitality, living standard.

Mrs. Sawverud, for example, cannot get over the number of private automobiles, and especially the fact that so many women have their own. And Mrs. Muriel Linten of County Antrim, Northern Ireland, exclaims:

SO BIG?
"For me the world has been turned upside down! You look at a map and you cannot imagine anything so vast! I shall certainly do all I can to encourage our young people to come to Canada where such opportunities exist."

The women have been traveling accompanied by Mrs. Stella Gummow, superintendent of the B.C. Women's Institutes, and Mrs. A. A. Shaw, B.C. provincial president. Yet there was no sign of fatigue or

Petite Bride, Maureen Smith Wed in Traditional Ceremony

A petite, dark-haired bride, gowned in nylon tulle over corded taffeta with lace bodice, exchanged wedding vows Saturday evening, with Glendon Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Grant, Wesley Road. Maureen Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, 2312 Blenkinsop Road, wore a chapel-length veil of nylon tulle misting from a lace poke bonnet headdress, caught at the sides with clusters of orange blossom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis.

Reception was held in the Continental Room of the Club Sirocco. A three-tier wedding cake topped and flanked with pinocchio roses centred the bride's table. S. W. Clarke proposed the toast to the bride.

A fitted suit of fine, seafoam green flecked with emerald green and white was worn by Mrs. Grant for motoring on honeymoon in the United States. She chose an emerald topcoat, white accessories and corsage of green orchids. Mr. and Mrs. Grant will live at 2312 Blenkinsop Road.

Rev. J. L. W. McLean performed the ceremony in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, which was decorated with standard baskets of pink gladioli. Guest pews were marked with tiny colonial clusters of pink carnations. Mr. Smith gave his daughter in marriage. During the signing of the register, Del Rogers sang "Because."

Mrs. Eleanore Whittingham was matron of honor and Miss Betty May Outtrim was bridesmaid. Both attendants wore gowns of aqua nylon tulle over corded taffeta, which featured attached stoles and diagonal pleats across the bodices and

"THANKS TO TRANS CANADA CREDIT I CAN KEEP MY CAR"

Have you been wondering how you could be a car owner with cash instead of a motorist without money? Perhaps your answer is at Trans Canada Credit—where an experienced adviser will help you secure a loan exactly suited to your needs.

At Trans Canada Credit a car loan can be arranged very quickly—often in a matter of hours. In a private interview you'll learn about Trans Canada Credit's many loan plans—and that rates are moderate as well. Life insurance up to $1500 is arranged on your loan at no extra cost to you—a real peace-of-mind feature.

You'll find your Trans Canada Credit adviser considerate, helpful and prompt to assist you. So if you drive a car and need cash, why not phone right away?

In Victoria the address is 618A Fort Street, the phone number is B 9178.

HOME GARDEN

By HILDA BEASTALL

During these golden days of garden bounty is the ideal time to assess the value of our home grown fruit and vegetables in terms of nutrition.

Are we growing the foods which give us the maximum from a health viewpoint? If we are using a single garden lot, it is a matter of importance to spend our time and space to the best advantage.

No matter how much we enjoy the flavor of potatoes dug from our own place, it is quite satisfactory to buy this item which occupies a large space in growing and storage. Potatoes do not deteriorate if stored correctly. The garden space could be used to much greater advantage in the growing of green leafy vegetables for example.

It is a scientific fact that the darker green the color, the higher the nutritional value. So that it follows quite logically, to my mind, that the crisp green of the oak leaf lettuce gives more value than a white head of the iceberg type. Not only that, but it tastes better, and requires no dressings to make it palatable. But since leafy vegetables do not keep well after picking, we can only get them from our own gardens. Here in Victoria it is possible to have many kinds of green leafy vegetables all the year round, especially if cloches or cold frames are used for winter protection in the colder spots.

Squash is another vegetable which makes a profitable crop. In my opinion, inasmuch as the smaller types such as Buttercup and Table Queen will keep well for use during winter, giving high food value and fine flavor when cooked. When young, they are especially delicious cut in half and cooked intact with skin and seeds in a covered casserole. Too often, with the large size winter squash found on the market, a portion must be cut and the remainder put aside for future use. We are assured that much of its vitamin value is thus lost.

The berry fruits lose their freshness when marketed more rapidly than tree fruits, and well repay in flavor and nutrition the garden space devoted to them. Trained to wires and carefully pruned, they are easily controlled.

Chain Reaction Captures Derby

WINNIPEG, Man. (BUP)—Chain Reaction, the hottest thing on hoofs on the western turf this year, streaked to an eight-length win Saturday in the 24th running of the $10,000 Canadian Derby.

Owned by Mrs. Joe Tomlinson of Toronto and ridden by Bud Diacomelli, Chain Reaction thundered past pacesetter Light Dust in the last quarter of the one mile and one-quarter western turf classic. The track was muddy, slowing the winner's time to 2:17 2/5, a long way off the Polo Park track record of 2:06 2/5 set in 1951.

The victory gave Mrs. Tomlinson a net $9,375, the handsome "Commonwealth Bowl" and her second straight Canadian Derby win. Her Lord Stroke won last year's derby.

Royal Navy Orders Deserter To Be Freed

VANCOUVER (CP)—The big gamble has paid off and Ivor Hughes, 35, of Dolly, Wales, wartime deserter from the Royal Navy, is a free man.

He was released Saturday from HMCS Discovery, on orders from the navy he deserted at Capetown in 1941.

A swift interview with immigration officials followed—he is in Canada illegally—and he was turned loose.

Hughes must report back to immigration September 16, but an official source who asked that he not be named said: "It looks as if he is going to be allowed to stay."

He "ceased to exist" in 1941 when a "Pte. Alan Medd" enlisted with a South African army unit and fought with that unit through North Africa and Italy.

It was as Alan Medd—the name of a schoolboy friend—that he was discharged in 1946 and worked for two years in the gold fields and copper mines of Africa.

And it was again Alan Medd who sailed from Capetown in 1948 for Montreal, where he jumped ship and again enlisted.

"Pte. Alan Medd" again went to war, this time with the Royal Canadian Regiment in Korea. He was discharged last May in Vancouver.

He worked on the aluminum project at Kemano, B.C., until last Sunday. Then Alan Medd came back to Vancouver and took up the name Ivor Hughes once more.

He assumed his rightful name by giving himself up to police as "Ivor Hughes, deserter." The crime carries a maximum penalty of death, but Hughes said: "All I want is my own name back."

Rains Improve Ont. Forest Fire Situation

TORONTO (CP)—Northern Ontario's forest fire situation improved during the week-end when heavy rain fell in the Sudbury and North Bay districts. The lands department reported 72 fires burning and eight new ones were reported during the week-end.

More than half an inch of rain fell in North Bay and Sudbury where the worst forest fires were destroying valuable timber and much game. Officials said they now are confined to the sections in which they have been burning.

Man Spends 30 Hours Deep in Unknown Cave

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—A man whose leg was crushed by the fall of a tremendous boulder was rescued Monday after spending 30 hours in a little explored cave deep in the Kings River National Forest.

Carroll Sleemkaer, 27, of Hollywood, was exploring about 1,500 feet inside the cave and 500 feet below the level of the entrance when the accident happened. He was with the Southern California Grotto of the National Speleological Society, a group interested in exploring caves.

New roofs for old

A NUMBER of ancient English churches are replacing their equally ancient roofs with aluminium. One of these is the Chapel of St. James in the village of Nether Warton, Oxfordshire. Its lead roof, originally laid in 1665, brought £478 as scrap — enough to pay the whole cost of installing the new roof.

while most metals have been getting more expensive through the centuries, the cost of aluminum has been going down. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan) two hours.

It is impossible not to admire the fact that, with so much corn at hand, the players resisted or were made to resist, the temptation to gather it to their bosoms and give forth the kind of mugging burlesque comedy performance that implies the lines and situation of the play.

As it were, they displayed a good grasp of the technique of farce, keeping the slender boundary between farce and burlesque intact. Too Arnggrim's hapless young man caught in the toils of two designing females, was a smart, clean-cut performance that hinted at better things in store when a fuller opportunity is provided.

Stuart Kidd, circulation manager of Victoria Press Limited, will represent his organization in the Western Conference of Circulation Managers of Metropolitan Newspapers.

The conference wound up a three-day convention here Saturday.

Victoria Press Limited was voted into the conference, composed of 30 newspapers from 11 western states and British Columbia. It is the fourth Canadian newspaper organization to be accepted.

Election of officers will be held at the next meeting in Los Angeles in February.

Back to School . . . Leg and All

Contrary to popular opinion, even a "busted" leg can't keep children from school. A star attraction at North Ward registration today was Gary Hemeon, nine, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hemeon, 788 Hillside, who fell and broke his leg when kiddies shook the apple tree he was climbing. Back at school today he tells the gang about his "holiday" as Times photographer, Irving Strickland, snaps his picture.

14,000 BACK TO BOOK LARNIN'

School Bells Again Toll Knell For Scholar's Summer Holiday

Fourteen thousand boys and girls started back to school in Greater Victoria today and there was scarcely a tear in the crowd.

"It gets boring in the summer—I miss school," said Victor Chan, "11 going on 12 next Sunday" as he waited in the yard of North Ward School today for registration.

His sentiments were echoed by nearly 350 little colleagues. Holidays can be fun but two months of them, and school looks like the great adventure was the theme.

John Britt, another Grade

$50 CROSSWORD PAGE 18

sixer was all grin when he waited for the school bell to ring. "I'm tired of holidays," he said. Billy Chan, 10, agreed with a "same here."

Even six-year-old Ronnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lamonagne, 2543 Government Street, was happy at the thought of his "first day at school."

So was mother, who has two older children in school and a younger one at home.

"I'm glad to see the start of school," she said. "Everything else has lost interest for them. When they get restless toward the end of holidays I can't wait for school to open."

Greater Victoria district's 36 public elementary, junior and senior high schools were ready and waiting for registration of the record number of students—1,000 more than last year.

Children registered today and received instructions on the coming term and the equipment needed.

Regular classes start Wednesday at all schools but Mount Douglas High. The 150 students there will have an extra holiday, as renovations will not be complete until Monday, according to J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools.

Stores did a land office business in new shoes for the young fry, trousers for the boys and new skirts and sweaters for the girls.

Thanks to the amount of government assistance on textbooks, however, as well as the book re-sale policies in effect for all schools, school opening is not the financial nightmare for parents it once was.

"The load is a lot lighter especially when you have a half a dozen children," remarked the father of four, "I know my parents really had a tough time providing us with necessary books for school."

"My daughter is starting college and her total outlay is only $24 and then she can resell them next year."

18 Victims In Chicago Tenement Fire

CHICAGO (AP)—Police and fire department officials today sought to determine the cause of a fire that swept through a south side tenement early Monday killing at least 18 persons.

The known victims in the fire that destroyed a four-story brick building were five women, four men and nine children, all Negroes. They were among about 150 persons believed to have been in the tenement when the fire broke out. Among the dead were nine members of one family, including six children.

The blaze was believed to have started in a first floor apartment, in the rear of a tavern. Fire officials estimated damage at $75,000.

Dynamite Greets School Opening In Douk Area

CPR Tracks Blasted Third Time in Week

The government's insistence on compulsory education for children of British Columbia's Doukhobors was challenged today—the first day of school—when dynamite left a huge section of CPR track and roadbed near Gilpin, B.C., a twisted mass of steel and earth.

Traffic over the CPR Kettle Valley line was halted.

It was the third blasting in the Kootenay Valley area in the last six days and Canadian Press reports from the area say the RCMP expressed fear it was the beginning of a "showdown" with authorities over compulsory school attendance.

NO "PERSECUTION"
Attorney-General Robert Bonner said here today the government will stick to its original plan to insist on school attendance by Doukhobor children.

"But we're not going to be provocative," he said. "We're not going to persecute the Doukhobors."

Mr. Bonner, asked if the government plans to stand by its already-announced plan for school attendance, replied: "Nothing has occurred to change our policy."

The attorney-general declined to disclose methods to be used to get Doukhobor children to school.

He does not anticipate sending police reinforcements to the Doukhobor country because this was done several months ago. He said he has not heard whether the Doukhobor children started school today.

There are about 400 children in the area.

Sons of Freedom members, who object to compulsory education, were warned by Attorney-General Bonner last May that fines of $10 a day were possible against parents of truants, with confiscation of drivers' licenses possible for chronic cases.

Rita Gets Million

PARIS (UP)—Lawyers for Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan reached agreement today on a $1,000,000 divorce settlement which ended the couple's storybook romance and left the red-haired movie star free to marry again.

Typhoon Deals Heavy Blow at Maritimes

Naval Officer Drowned; Annapolis Apple Crop Damage Estimated at $1,000,000

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—A tropical hurricane blew itself out over waters east of Labrador today after dealing a sledge-hammer blow to the Maritime provinces and shipping in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

One Nova Scotia fishboat was missing off the south coast. One man had lost his life. Damage to the apple crop in the Annapolis Valley was estimated at $1,000,000.

CREWS RESCUED

Hurricane "Carol," the third and worst of the season along the seaboard, struck Monday night after side-swiping New England and necessitating rescue of 23 men from two stricken vessels.

At Craggy Peggy's Cove, fishermen reported the seas were the worst in memory. Surf was breaking over 100 feet in the air as 80-mile-an-hour winds whipped waters into a white fury.

The 75-foot fishboat Joyce Marie was reported sinking 60

DRUG-CARRIER SUSPECT FREE ON $5,000 BOND

A 33-year-old Victoria man was released on $5,000 bail after being charged in city police court today with possession of a large amount of heroin.

Denis Charles O'Brien, 713 Pembroke, was remanded to Sept. 15 by Magistrate Henry C. Hall. He did not enter a plea, nor elect type of trial desired. His counsel is Arthur Brethour.

Police said his arrest was a culmination of several weeks of investigation in drug trafficking here.

It was reported over 100 capsules of heroin were seized.

Adenauer Wins German Vote

Triumphant Premier to Tighten Party's Grip on West Government

BONN, Germany (UP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, backed by the mandate of a smashing election victory, moved today to tighten the grip of his Christian Democratic Party on the West German government.

The victory scored in Sunday's balloting gave new impetus to the 77-year-old chancellor's long-range plans for reuniting Soviet-occupied, Communist-governed east Germany with the western federal republic, and rearming Germany on the side of the western powers.

But his immediate concern was selection of a new cabinet in which his Christian Democrats will hold all key posts.

Chancellery officials said Adenauer plans to have most of his ministers designated before he leaves for a holiday in the Black Forest on September 17. He got the ball rolling today at a meeting with his old cabinet at which the meaning of the election returns was discussed.

It appeared certain that some of the ministries held by his partners in the coalition government which has been in power since 1948 now will go to Christian Democratic party leaders.

EXTEND CONGRATULATIONS

Both United States High Commissioner James B. Conant and French High Commissioner Andre Francois Poncet called on Adenauer separately to extend their congratulations on his election victory.

In winning, Adenauer swept all Communists out of the New Bundestag (lower house of parliament). They had held 15 seats in the outgoing parliament.

Adenauer's coalition won 306 seats and full control of the Bundestag in Sunday's elections. The Social Democratic (Socialist) opposition got 150 seats.

The chancellor's own Christian Democratic party alone took 243 seats, just one short of an absolute majority. It will pick up the other seat at the new Bundestag's first session when one of its members elected on another party ticket in a political manoeuvre will formally announce his switch back to his own party.

Both Communists and the ultra-right German Reich party (DRP), which includes many former Nazis, were reduced to the status of mere fringe splinter groups with no representation in the new Bundestag.

Jubilant

Chancellor Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party cast 12,440,799 votes, or 45.2 per cent of the total, in Sunday's West German elections, final figures showed today. The Free Democrats, allied with Adenauer's party, polled an additional 2,628,146, giving the parties a combined 54.7 per cent of all ballots cast. Adenauer's party will hold 244 seats and the Free Democrats 48 seats for a clear majority.

MAN DROWNED

Lt. Cmdr. L. C. Bishop of Halifax was swept into the Atlantic from the deck of the Halifax yacht Vagrant and drowned at the mouth of Halifax harbor Monday afternoon. His wife jumped into the ocean with a life preserver tied about her waist, but could not reach him. She later got to shore and was taken to a Halifax hospital suffering from shock.

The Nova Scotia agricultural department said "The worst damage of the century" had been dealt to the rich Nova Scotia apple crop, normally one of the biggest in Canada.

B.C. Toll May Reach Seven; Nation's Fatalities 62

One violent death marred Victoria and district's Labor Day week-end.

George Whyte, 65, of no known address, was found drowned Sunday evening near the Johnson Street Bridge. Police are endeavoring to get in touch with his relatives.

Although traffic was the heaviest in history, there was not a single major accident. Minor mishaps produced few injuries.

Across Canada, holiday accidents took a death toll of nearly one an hour; and in B.C. five are known dead, and a sixth fatality is suspected.

BOAT FOUND

Vancouver police said the finding of a 14-foot outboard motor boat off Point Grey, in which were fishing gear, a man's jacket and a pair of glasses with the name of a Saskatchewan optician, gave rise to the suspicion an unknown boatman may have perished.

The traffic death list included:

Calvin Bill, Masset, who fell from a fish boat in Cow Bay and drowned. His body was recovered Sunday.

Mrs. Paul Hampson, Prince George, who died en route to the hospital following a traffic accident on the Cariboo Highway.

Arthur Lloyd Cardie, 22, Yale, killed Sunday when his late model car crashed into a bridge abutment on the Trans-Canada Highway at American Bar.

Mrs. Clarissa Lochhead, 83, Vancouver, traffic.

Joey Arnold, 3, Vancouver, drowned near Golden.

Mrs. Mary Jane Hirschfield, 69, Vancouver, found dead in her home apparently from gas asphyxiation.

A British United Press survey showed there were 62 violent deaths across Canada during the summer's last long week-end. Traffic accidents took 41 lives. Six persons drowned.

Ontario had the blackest provincial record. Seventeen traffic deaths occurred in the central province along with five drownings and seven other fatalities from a variety of accidents. Quebec had 11 traffic deaths.

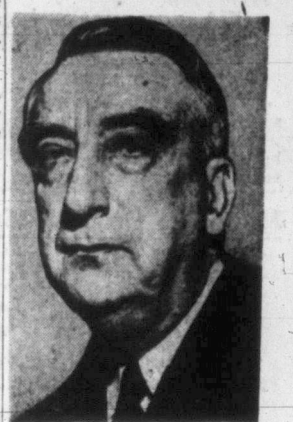

Across the United States, authorities recorded 522 deaths, 349 of them in traffic accidents. Drownings claimed 68, nine died in plane crashes and 96 others in miscellaneous accidents.

One of the worst auto mishaps took place at Plant City, Fla., where seven women were killed when their car was rammed by a Seaboard Railway passenger train at a crossing.

Labor Parley Sought

TIMMINS, Ont. (BUP)—Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario has been asked to take the lead in setting up a full-scale conference on labor problem on a national basis as a result of a bitter gold mine strike here.

The request to Frost was made Labor Day in a wire from C. A. Millard, national director of the United Steelworkers of America.

Chief Justice Dead

A heart attack suffered unexpectedly early today in his hotel suite in Chicago took the life of Fred M. Vinson, 63, chief justice of the United States since 1946. Vinson had not been ill. Vinson's death created the first vacancy on the supreme court bench since President Eisenhower took office. There was immediate speculation that Eisenhower will name Governor Earl Warren of California to fill the vacancy.

French Liner Liberte Runs Hard Aground

LE HAVRE, France (UP)—The 51,840-ton French luxury liner, Liberte, carrying 1,075 passengers, including many home-bound Americans, ran aground in dense fog today as she sailed for New York.

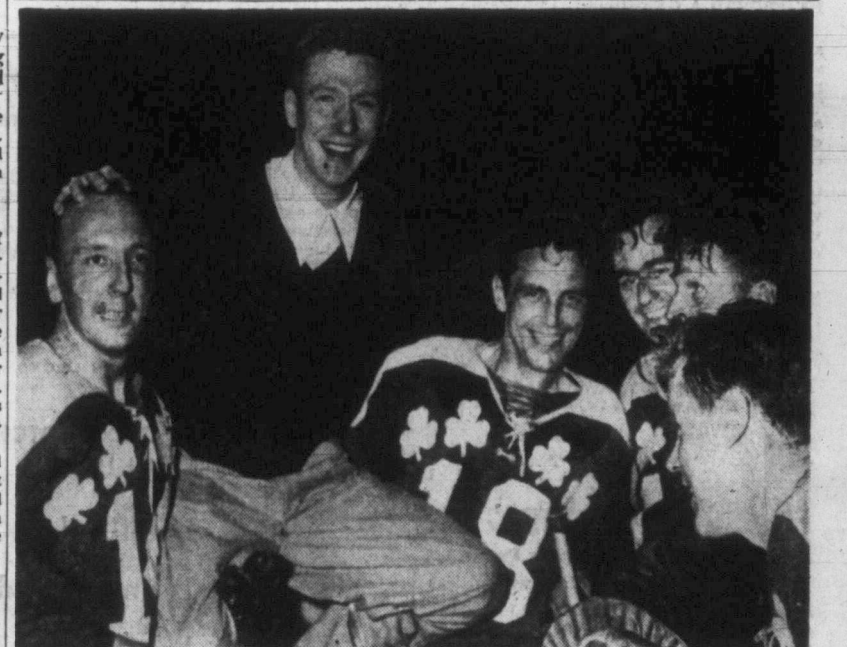

The liner, fourth largest in the world, was under command of a substitute skipper. All her passengers were booked for passage to the United States.

The luxury liner, formerly the German ship "Europa," reported itself stuck fast only half an hour after a gay sailing from its dock here for Southampton, its first stop.

The Liberte ranks in size after the British liners Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary and the United States liner United States.

PNE Attendance Sets Record of 835,035

VANCOUVER (CP)—Pacific National Exhibition officials closed the gates on the 1953 fair Monday night after counting an all-time record attendance of 835,035 persons, an increase of 118,035 over the 1952 total.

Jubilant Rocks Enter Mann Finals

For the first time since 1919, a Victoria team is in the Mann Cup finals, fighting for the lacrosse championship of Canada. Shamrocks made it by handing a 12-5 defeat to Vancouver Pilseners Monday night in the final game of the intercity league finals.
